St. Mary Cross Taken Down

70-Pound Symbol Is Removed for New Paint, Repairs

If you happen up N Main St. way these days and see objects moving up and down the steeple of St. Mary Catholic Church, don't make a mad dash for your favorite occulist, it's only C. A. Miller and his all-star cast of steeplejacks repairing the church steeple and cross.

The work of removing the cross and lowering it to the ground was done Thursday and the one and one-half hour operation drew a gallery of interested on-lookers.

Now the men are making the needed repairs on the cross, removing the accumulation of dirt and preparing it for its brand new coat of gold leaf.

MILLER AND FOUR of the crew took over the job of lowering the cross which is of corrugated copper, weighs something like 70 pounds, is eight feet high with the arms measuring five feet across. The cross is lined with a wooden sleeve and rests on a metal ball eight feet in circumference. Both are supported by a large metal base.

After the surface of the cross has been freed from loose paint chips and the metal thoroughly cleaned, it will be given a first coat of red lead, then two coats of lead and oil paint to provide a smooth surface for the gold leaf which will be laid when the coating has reached its proper degree of hardness.

IT WILL BE several days before the work on the cross is completed and the housing of it some 175 feet atop the steeple begun.

The cross is the original one placed on the steeple when the church was built 55 years ago. Dedication ceremonies were conducted Oct. 14, 1895. This marks the sixth time it has been removed for repairs and redecorating.

Working on the St. Mary Church steeple, which is one of the highest, if not the highest in the city, is just another job to Miller and his men, a job the average person doesn't envy. "You can see all over everyplace from up there," Miller volunteered. "We'll tackle anything anyplace in the country," he added.

IN THE WORK for 15 years, his jobs have included getting to the top of courthouses, churches, business blocks and other high buildings. The business of being a steeplejack also takes him up on radio sending towers some of which have been as high as 1,100 feet.

"We're in this work because we like it," Miller said in response to a query, "why did you ever pick this way of making a livelihood"

U.S., Russia Set for Clash As U.N. Convenes To Vote On Security Council Seats

Marion's New 'Y' Dedicated

ACCEPTANCE OF THE NEW YMCA BUILDING and a talk by Dr. George A. Bowman, president of Kent State University, citing the value of the "Y" organization to our way of life, were highlights of a dedication program Sunday.

LEFT: Arthur Haas, general secretary, (left) and A. W. Kette, president of the board of directors of the "Y", examine the gold key presented by the architects and contractors to the YMCA.

RIGHT: Dr. George A. Bowman, president of Kent State University and former superintendent of schools here, tells the audience the belief which the new building represents will be deciding factor in the overthrow of communism.

Soviets Back Poland; U.S. Will Say 'No'

2 Trusteeship Council Seats Also at Stake In Annual Elections

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Another outright clash between the United States and the Soviet Union shaped up today in U. N. Assembly elections for the U. N. Security Council and two other bodies.

The 60 nation Assembly was called back into its first plenary session since last Tuesday for the annual elections. At stake were 3 of the 11 Security Council, and 2 of the 12 Trusteeship Council spots.

Candidates needed a two-thirds majority of valid ballots cast in the secret vote for election.

Poland vs. Turkey

The big contest in the Security Council was for the seat Greece will vacate Dec. 31. The Soviet bloc backed Poland for the place. The United States had announced its support for Turkey. The philippines was a late entry 10 days ago, complicating the contest and threatening a long-drawn-out series of ballots.

The Security Council election took on added importance because the group's 11 members plus Canada form the disarmament commission which now has to deal with the hydrogen bomb as well as other weapons.

In the other two Security Council elections, Brazil and New Zealand were unopposed for the seats being vacated by Chile and Pakistan. All three places carry a two-year term.

Under London Pact

The Russian-American dispute over the council seat once more stemmed from the big powers' 1946 "gentleman's agreement" in London, which alloted one of the council's 11 non-permanent seats to an East European country blessed by Russia.

The United States contends the agreement was for one year only, to get the U. N. underway. The Soviets insist it was a permanent pact.

The Americans disregarded the agreement in 1949, successfully supporting Yugoslavia after her split with the Cominform. Russian

Public Anxious Over Defense, Senator Claims

Feel Balanced Budget Secondary to U.S. Safety, Jackson Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen Henry Jackson (D-Wash) declared today the American people are worried about the state of national defense and stand ready to continue paying high taxes to build it up.

"If the Republicans think they must cut taxes in order to please the people, they are mistaken," said Jackson, a former member of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

His statement, in an interview, was in harmony with an assertion by Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), now chairman of the committee, that he is "ready to surrender" the principle of a balanced budget.

Answer Is 'No'

Cole was asked on an NBC television interview yesterday if the American people would favor trying to balance the budget if they knew the truth about Russian atomic development.

"No, indeed, they would not," he replied.

Russia's atomic progress—particularly over the devastating hydrogen bomb—ran through the statements of Cole and Jackson, as well as other Washington officials, over the weekend.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming, in the most positive official appraisal of the H-bomb situation to date, said in a quarterly report to President Eisenhower:

"Soviet Russia is capable of delivering suddenly and without warning the most destructive weapon ever devised by man on chosen targets in the United States."

He told a news conference yesterday that he meant thermonuclear weapons — the hydrogen bomb.

U. S. Edge Fading

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), one-time secretary of the Air Force, said in a New York speech yesterday that America's atomic advantage is vanishing, adding:

"The great bulk of our defense chips should be placed on our capacity for instant and devastating atomic retaliation."

Jackson sided with Symington, saying in an interview:

"The Russians have the hydrogen bomb, just as we have, and the big issue now is deliverability of the bomb. We have got to have a bigger Air Force to carry the bombs because there are more primary atomic targets in Russia than there are in the United States."

Like Symington, Jackson complained that the Eisenhower administration appears to be thinking more of balancing the budget than of building up defense forces.

"I think the people are willing to continue to pay high taxes to build up our defenses and are defi-

Kent State U. Head Gives Talk, Cites Building's Value

By JOHN ROBSON

Belief in the importance of the individual and in the existence of God and religion as exemplified by the YMCA will help the free world overcome the threat of Communism, Dr. George A. Bowman declared at the dedication of Marions' new YMCA building Sunday afternoon.

An estimated 650 persons were present at the dedication. Hundreds more visited the $900,000 building during the open house which was held after the program, and which continues this week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily until Saturday.

Ben T. Wiant, presiding officer told the audience the building was the first in the country to be opened for the entire community without regard for age or sex.

IN THE MAIN SPEECH, Dr Bowman, president of Kent State University and superintendent of schools in Marion from 1929 to 1934, said the principles on which the YMCA was founded would offset the threat to the free world of communist domination.

Dr. Bowman called the great weaknesses in the communist system the denial of the importance of the individual and the denial of [illegible]. He said the part these two beliefs will aid greatly in the downfall of communism.

There is no better illustration of free enterprise than the new building, he said. It has been a "long hard road with no compulsion" placed on persons who loved the community enough to give of their time, money and efforts to make the project a success.

Neutral Group To Begin POW Examinations

Interviews of Balky Prisoners Could Start Within Next Week

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission moved today to get underway the long-delayed explanations to some 22,600 anti-Red prisoners why they should return home.

The NNRC asked the Allied command to start work on both temporary and permanent facilities where Red representatives will try to talk the 7,900 Koreans and 14,700 Chinese into returning to communism.

The interviews could begin within a week at the temporary site.

Target Date Missed

The truce agreement called for the interviews to begin by Sept. 26 and end 90 days later—Dec. 24.

However, the target date was lost in a flurry of haggling over the interview buildings.

The Communists have demanded 32 permanent-type structures, which are to be built by the U. N. Command.

They, in turn, were building sites [illegible] POWs — including 23 Americans and 1 Briton—who have refused to return home.

UNC in No Hurry

The Indian command, which is in charge of the balky POWs of both sides, Monday took over 10 structures built by the Reds for UNC interviewers.

Although the UNC, too, probably could begin interviews within a week, it apparently is in no hurry. An Allied high officer said expla-

Becomes 14th Chief Justice

Warren Sworn In as U.S. Supreme Court Convenes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Earl Warren became the 14th chief justice of the United States at 12:06 p.m. EST today.

President Eisenhower looked on as the former California governor raised his right hand and took an oath to give justice impartially to the poor and to the rich—and thus became the nation's highest judicial officer.

Mrs. Eisenhower was with the President.

Mrs. Warren was also there, in a blue suit which had small red dots [illegible] was a large lavender orchid.

She beamed through the brief ceremony.

Reads Oath

While the eight associate justices and the audience stood, Warren raised his hand and read the oath standing before the court clerk, Harold B. Willey.

Warren then seated himself in the high backed chief justice's chair in the center of the long bench.

After Warren came into the court room Willey read his commission while Warren sat at the left hand side of the clerk's desk.

Black, in announcing the death of Vinson and Warren's succession said Vinson had spent most of his life "in fine public service for his state and his nation, both of which he loved and served with passionate devotion."

Warren's resignation as California's chief executive took effect at midnight last night.

He and Mrs. Warren flew here by commercial airliner, their departure from San Francisco delayed for 33 minutes by the crowd of well wishers who turned out. On hand to greet them here last night were two fellow Californians, Vice President Nixon and Sen Knowland, the GOP Senate leader, as well as Atty. Gen. Brownell. The approximately 75 spectators did not include any of the Supreme Court justices.

Glad To Quit Politics

Warren thanked those who had come out and in response to a reporter's question, said he was glad to get away from active politics. He has been in public life for 34 years, but never before has served as a judge.

This is the procedure for his induction into the nation's highest judicial position:

A few minutes before stepping to the bench, Warren takes the oath pledging that he will support and defend the Constitution. Justice Black planned to administer it in a private conference room behind the bench.

After this, the justices march to the court room, Warren going to the clerk's desk at the left end of the bench, as seen from the court chamber. There, Supreme Court Clerk Harold B. Willey administers the judicial oath.

First Day To Be Easy

[illegible] supreme court bench will be easy as well as brief. The death on Sept. 8 of Chief Justice Vinson will be announced by Black, the senior justice. A few routine motions by attorneys may be heard by Warren. Other attorneys then will be admitted to practice—as Warren was admitted on Jan. 5, 1932 when he was attorney general of California. (While Warren is a member of the bar of the Supreme Court, attaches there could not recall that he had ever appeared before the tribunal to argue a case).

Inquiry Board Set To Report On Dock Strike

President's 3-Man Panel Likely To Ask For T-H Injunction

NEW YORK (AP) — Anticipated U S government action today may bring a quick end to an economy-crippling strike of longshoremen from Maine to Virginia.

A special three-man presidential board of inquiry was expected to deliver to the White House by early afternoon a report containing findings indicating whether the walkout is endangering the nation's welfare.

The report to President Eisenhower [illegible] will result in his asking the Department of Justice to seek in federal court an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley law.

It is possible that an injunction could be obtained and served by tonight. Leaders of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) have said they will instruct their men to obey such a court order.

May Need Ike's Hand

Bridges-Stassen Clash Shows Rift in Top GOP

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican unity gave signs of developing cracks at high levels today, with some indications that President Eisenhower may have to take a hand to restore harmony.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) jolted administration officials with a weekend announcement that the Senate Appropriations Committee probably will call Foreign Operations Administrator Harold E. Stassen on the carpet to explain what Bridges called "capricious" job firings in his agency.

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, made it clear on his return from a world tour that he will oppose a proposal by Sen Capehart (R-Ind) to make the chairmen of 15 regular legislative committee members of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Bridges' statement, issued at his office here, gave something of a Republican endorsement to frequently voiced Democratic complaints that dismissals of federal employes had—as Bridges put it—"worked inequities on personnel and had impaired the efficiency of the organization."

Stassen's aides replied that in firing workers they were only following the rules laid down by Congress itself.

In some quarters the Bridges complaint was interpreted as resen. In previous appearances besome Republican Appropriations Committee members toward Stassen. In previous appeearances before the group, Stassen has been subjected to rather unsympathetic questioning by members of his own party.

There is some feeling among

U.S. Navy Jet Sets New Air Speed Record

By JACK STEVENSON

THERMAL, Calif. (AP)—Streaking an average of 753.4 mph, the Navy's new F4D Skyray interceptor has won back the world's measured course record for the United States and now will be given further tests at sea.

Lt. Cmdr. James B. Verdin, 35, youthful looking combat hero of both World War II and Korea, piloted the jet flying-wing-type Douglas plane to the new record Saturday about 150 feet above the hot sands along Southern California's Salton Sea.

On each of his four arrow-straight passes over the 3-kilometer (1.863 mile) course, Verdin averaged each mile in less than five seconds. His fastest pass—761.414 m. p. h.—was only 31 less than the speed of sound along the course, where the mercury read 98.5 degrees. Sonic speed varies with temperature and altitude.

Verdin and the Skyray erased the 737.3 m. p. h. record set by British Cmdr. Mike Lithgow in a Vickers Supermarine Swift at Libya only last Sept. 25.

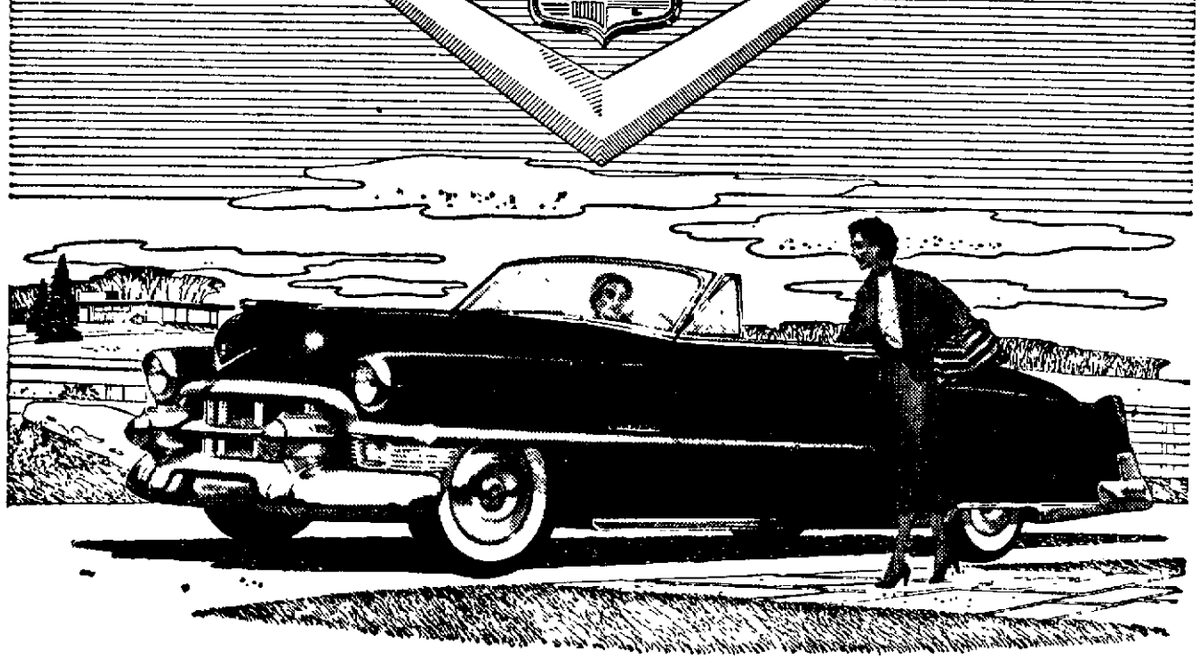
Cadillac



Special Favorite of the Ladies!

When a Cadillac comes into the service of a family that has never owned one before, it is—quite naturally—a source of great pride and happiness to the entire family group.

But we have noticed, through the years, that the car is a very special favorite with the ladies. For, most assuredly, a Cadillac does some very wonderful and extraordinary things for a lady.

First of all, she looks her loveliest when she is seated behind its wheel. Every time she takes to the highway, she finds herself the focal point in a perfectly gorgeous picture.

And she feels just as wonderful as she looks.

The car's deep, luxurious cushions cradle her in magnificent comfort throughout the longest journey. The great responsiveness of the quiet, powerful engine gives her a marvelous sense of command. The car steers and brakes and drives with such miraculous ease that she actually rests and relaxes as she rides.

Of course, there are a great many other satisfactions which a lady finds in a new Cadillac car.

There is, for instance, her delight at seeing her family surrounded with every comfort and safeguard known to the science of motor car design. And there is the deep and rewarding sense of fulfillment which comes with ownership of such a prized and sought-after possession. Even parked in her driveway, the car is a tribute to her good taste and judgment . . . and a wonderful complement to the beauty and graciousness of her home.

* * *

To any gentleman reading this advertisement—we would like to make a suggestion:

Some day soon—when the sky is bright and the time is right—ask your lady if she wouldn't like to take a ride in a 1953 Cadillac.

We think we know what the answer will be—and we'll be happy to see you, indeed.

Give a Dog a Bad Name

Politics being what it is — a game in which the politician's hand is usually quicker than the citizen's eye — the squabble over excise taxes is a demonstration of hocus-pocus.

The Eisenhower administration is pledged to clean up the mish-mash of overlapping and inequitable federal, state and local taxation. It is responsible, moreover, for raising the revenue needed to pay for all the spending authorized by Congress.

It is important in this connection that while revenue bills must originate in the House of Representatives, ideas for new taxes don't originate there. That responsibility is turned over to the executive branch.

Thus, the Eisenhower administration will be given the blame for everything it proposes in the name of tax reform. That is the political game.

If the opposition can give the dog a bad name, tax reform will be impossible.

Citizens who try to understand what is being done will keep their attention riveted on something more reliable than political hocus-pocus.

As the war boom subsides, revenue from income taxes will decline. They are a notoriously wobbly source of revenue when the economic curve is leveling off or moving downward. Furthermore, income-tax reductions already have been scheduled.

The steadiest source of federal revenue is excise taxation. This can be imposed on the buyer, where it becomes a sales tax, or on the manufacturer, where it becomes a manufacturer's excise tax.

A sales tax is a damaging idea in politics. Hence the hysterical attempt to make it appear that the Eisenhower administration is considering a federal sales tax. It isn't.

It is considering a broad program of tax reform in which federal revenue will be stabilized without penalty to state and local revenue. One possibility of reform would be a manufacturers excise tax.

Politics aside, where politics should be kept once in a while for the general welfare, it is an idea that will have to be thought through soberly.

The federal government cannot reduce income tax rates, deflate the war boom and maintain its financial stability without a more systematic revenue system.

Rule for Beginners

It has happened again. An "independent" polled the largest vote in Cleveland's primary vote for mayor last Tuesday. The "regulars" trailed.

When election votes are counted these days, a citizen who remembers when party bosses dominated politics in this country remembers the revelations of Lincoln Steffens.

Steffens reported realistically what went on behind the scenes of government in the first third of this century. It was not the way it was described in civics books or in James Bryce's "American Commonwealth."

He wrote the story of the political bosses in America.

But now his concept has been outmoded by a more up-to-date realism. The day of the bosses has passed. The best rule for beginners today is to be against the bosses—and if there are no bosses, invent some.

Public feeling has undergone a revolution against control in public affairs. Victims of the revulsion range from labor leaders who try to tell the rank and file how to vote to party leaders whose promises to deliver votes now are empty nonsense. It is time for a new Steffens—a "muck-raker" who will bring the realities of politics up to date and describe in truthful detail what has happened to the two-party system.

Fence-Busting

Each major baseball league now has leaped the barrier of a traditional pattern.

The Braves of Boston have made a successful move to Milwaukee and the Browns of St. Louis have been transferred to Baltimore.

The lid's off.

The major leagues finally are breaking down the fences. Anything can happen and a great many things probably will happen from now on.

There is a city named Toronto in Canada with major-league ideas in baseball. There are two cities in California with major-league ideas—Los Angeles and San Francisco. At the risk of being riddled with a barrage of Texas pride, there are at least two cities in Texas with potentialities — Dallas and Houston.

All forthcoming arguments before the U. S. Supreme Court to the contrary notwithstanding, professional baseball is a business. It makes its way by selling entertainment to customers.

It will go where the customers are. Now that the fence-busting has started, that may be from Montreal to Mexico City and from Seattle to Miami before the big-league pattern is stabilized again.

Tax Spending Battle

By Martin S. Hayden

Ike and Humphrey Face Double Trouble

WASHINGTON

Like the famed light brigade, President Eisenhower and secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey heard cannon to the right and cannon to the left of them last week as they saddled for a charge into the 1954 battle of taxes and spending.

Their objective is $9,500,000,000 in combined savings and new revenues to balance the federal books next year.

The double trouble through which they must battle to carry Capitol Hill was emphasized today by two fiscal-wise and veteran House members—Reps. John Dingell (D., Mich.), of the New Deal left, and Noah Mason (R., Ill.), of the arch-conservative right — who aimed from respective flanks to purported Eisenhower — Humphrey strategy to win their fiscal goal with a new manufacturers' tax.

THIS, SIMPLIFIED, is the tax-and-budget arithmetic over which Humphrey and the President today sharpened their pencils and battle swords.

1. In fiscal year 1954 which ends next June 30, government will get $68,300,000,000 in taxes, spend $72,100,000,000 and borrow to meet a $3,800,000,000 deficit.

2. In the calendar year beginning next January, and under present laws, the Treasury will lose $8,000,000,000 in annual revenues from a Jan. 1 income-tax reduction ($3,000,000,000), a Jan. 1 death of the excess-profits tax ($2,000,000,000), an April 1 cut in corporate tax rates ($2,000,000,000) and the April 1 end of extra Korean war excises ($1,000,000,000) levied on automobiles, gasoline, beer, liquor, and other items.

3. Because the fiscal year end overlaps the start of the calendar year, $2,300,00,000 of the $8,000,000,000 annual loss will have been counted in next June's $2,800,000,000 deficit, but—

4. Somehow, to balance the budget as they plan, the President and Humphrey must either cut expenditures or increase revenue to pick up $9,500,000,000 during fiscal 1955 that starts next July 1.

A flat Eisenhower statement that he opposes a federal retail sales tax, and his almost-angry refusal at his Wednesday press conference to eliminate similarly a possible manufacturers' tax, pointed up the latter as the administration's chosen tax to fill the budget-balance gap that will be left after new administration economies.

It also brought Representatives Mason and Dingell from their opposite corners to shout that any such plan would carry over their dead legislative bodies.

MASON. A GOP pillar of the tax-writing ways and means committee, is for a 5-per cent manufacturers' tax, like the one Canada has, that would hit every factory item except food and drugs. But he is dead against it as "extra" revenue to help the President out of his problem in tax arithmetic. Mason would solve that problem by a $9,500,000,000 hatchet job on defense and other expenditures.

Dingell in turn opposes both the manufacturers' tax and further cuts in spending. Like Mason, he would eliminate all present excises, not just those incidental to the Korean war. Then he would tap corporate and individual taxpayers for something approaching twice $9,500,000,000 to balance the budget without spending cuts.

This is the talk of the divergent congressmen:

"I'm going to introduce a manufacturers' tax bill," says Mason, "but it won't give one extra red cent to be wasted by government spenders. My bill will cancel all present excises now on the books, except those on liquor and cigarettes. That will end haphazard levies of from 2 to 30 per cent on cosmetics, automobiles, pocketbooks, furs and other items. My 5 per cent equalized manufacturers' tax will bring in the $5,000,000,000 that now comes from those silly levies.

"But," Trumpets the Illinois Republican, "no new money. We will balance the budget by cutting spending, not by raising taxes."

DINGELL SAYS "baloney" to Mason's idea of budget balancing solely by economy; for an administration manufacturers' tax he has a more polite: "I'm against it."

"All excise taxes," says the No. 2 ways and means Democrat, "are bad. That includes a sales tax, the manufacturers' tax, or the present hodge-podge. The manufacturers' tax is no good because its cost to the consumer would pyramid as middlemen and retailers added their profit markups to the original tax.

"I would knock out all excises except those on liquor, beer and wine and reduce those to the 1914 level where they brought in just enough to pay for liquor-law enforcement. Then I'd make up that lost revenue, and balance the budget, by an increased excess-profits tax and higher corporate and personal income-tax rates.

"All that," says Dingell, "is in line with the basic theory that you should tax profits—not products."

For the President there seemed today three possible routes through the right-and left-wing cannonading.

HE COULD surrender to Mason, hatchet the Pentagon, and thereby probably lose Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and other Republican opponents of wholesale dismantling of military power.

In theory, he could go the Dingell way and thereby lose both business support of his regime and probably Humphrey from the cabinet.

Finally, and most likely, he can seek a middle-ground majority to reduce Dingell and Mason and their respective followers to split minority status.

But—and on this capital observers agree—finding a middle-ground congressional coalition in favor of an election-year tax increase will take considerable administration maneuvering.

T. Manville Twill

By TRUMAN TWILL

These observations of T. Manville Twill, the tomcat who recently returned from Korea without knowing how he got across all that water without noticing it, were propped up beside an empty milk bowl this morning.

For readers who are curious about this arrangement, T. Manville regards himself as a cat of letters who needs a patron to support himself in the style to which he is accustomed.

This is an arrangement borrowed from the Old World, where writers and all other creative workers once were forced to live off the charity of wealthy patrons, there being no illusions at that time about creative thinking being on a par with button-carving and widget-making.

T. Manville makes these observations in return for room board and status as a non-vagrant:

The National Game. If the Baltimore Orioles intend to challenge the New York Yankees for the flag beginning in 1954, what will become of the Cleveland Indians, whose only claim to fame has been Yankee-challenging?

Brain-Washing. How long will it take Americans to realize those 23 turncoats who went over to Communism only did it so they could come home to their beloved America some day, turn traitor to the Kremlin and live happily ever afterward telling congressional committees and others the real inside facts about the Communists? Turning traitor is now a respectable career. You positively cannot tell the traitors from the loyalists without the complete files of the FBI.

Kinsey Jokes on the Air. All of a sudden, they aren't funny. There's the same embarrassed hush there is when someone underestimates his audience and tells a stag-party story in a parlor.

The Recession Hard-headed businessmen and numb-headed politicians who meow plaintively because production is falling off wouldn't think of saying in words of one syllable they would welcome another good shooting war, but you cannot condemn them for what they're thinking.

Wedding Ceremonies in Casinos. There are maybe a thousand cases where honest, upright citizens have insisted on taking small children out of the custody of parents who insisted on dragging them around to unsavory joints. It all depends on how notorious you are.

Those Tight-Fitting Trousers Women Are Wearing. The psychology may be sound enough but the physiology is wrong.

Misunderstanding. What used to be accidental when it happened in this country is now as deliberate and systematic as any other form of propaganda. Since a cat can see better after dark than a human, it is obvious to all pussy cats who have reached the age of discretion that the Eisenhower administration has run afoul of a plot to make certain that none of its actions will be free from as much misunderstanding as possible.

More Power For New Automobiles. The way things are now, anything that gets in the way of a car is mashed. Give the boys a few more years and there will be nothing left for the mortician at all. Traffic victims will disintegrate, like H-bomb targets.

NB. I shall be unavoidably attained and positively will not be home tonight.

Warren Measured Against Tradition

By Raymond Moley

It was altogether fitting and quite characteristic of the man, when Gov. Earl Warren was appraised of his nomination by the President for the office of chief justice of the United States, that he spoke of humility.

In that role he will have looking over his shoulder the shades of as noble and distinguished a company as our country has known—Stone, Hughes, Taft, White, Fuller, Waite, Chase, Taney, and Marshall.

Their generations of lawyers and public men gave them respect and precedence.

There will be no unanimity about this appointment among the lawyers and informed public men of this generation.

Of course, there will be those who will not weigh the appointment in terms of ultimates.

Politically minded Republicans will recognize and applaud it as an admirable means of moving Warren out of California and of paving the way for the victory of a united party in that state in 1954.

There was no question of the danger presented by a bitter primary fight between an avowed candidate, Goodwin Knight, and Warren or a Warren man.

The price of peace has been high but this administration has bought peace in an inflated market before.

There is an ironical turn in the fact that this appointment, so utterly political in nature, should have been made in the case of a man who has been so nebulous in his allegiance to the Republican party.

There were times when he was running for office when it was difficult to identify his party affiliation. James Roosevelt, in 1950, probably without realizing it, coined the joke of the year when he said, "I don't want to make this a dirty campaign but I am determined to identify Warren with the Republican party."

There will be grave reservations among a very large group of lawyers and others who have escaped and who deplore the pragmatic trends in the law during the past three decades.

They will regard this appointment as a further strengthening of the present disposition of the Court to follow in the tradition of Justice Holmes — a tradition which held as its basic belief that there are no traditions.

This negative attitude toward precedent and system is the very essence of what calls itself "liberalism." Those who subscribe to that school of thought will assume that Warren will strengthen the present "liberal" trend in the Court.

They are probably right not only because of Warren's professed policies as governor of California, but because his very lack of legal knowledge and judicial experience makes the acceptance of pragmatism the easiest road to follow.

Liberalism in the law suggests free verse, which is a notable essay long ago Max Eastman called "lazy verse." It was so easy to write. The judge can approach each case with all the abandon that would be possible if there were no precedents at all.

Rationalization or, if you will, reason is the only guide and too often caprice and prejudice add seasoning to justice.

The virtues attributed to Warren by the President when he announced his appointment are no doubt present.

They are "integrity, honesty, middle-of-the-road philosophy, experience in government, experience in the law, no ends to serve except the United States, also "a man who was healthy, strong, who had not had any serious illnesses, and who was relatively young."

To that could be added administrative ability and a capacity to get on with others.

I am not sure, however, that the commanding general of the Allied Forces, European Theater, would in 1944 have placed in command of the Fifth Army a person who had never commanded a regiment.

White House 'Open Door'

By EDWARD NELLOR

A White House spokesman denies that presidential dinner guests lists are anti-labor.

Murray Snyder, assistant to James Hagerty, says that there is no discrimination between labor and business when the President sets up a guest list for his periodic dinner parties.

Snyder stated that the President already has had most of the major labor bosses in for a free feed, including John L. Lewis.

The President has been host to business and industrial leaders interested in promoting an organization known as the American Heritage Foundation. There were no labor leaders seated at the banquet table, but Snyder saw nothing unusual in this.

He indicated that the guest list was confined to those active in rassing funds and preparing plans for the growth of the organization, which interests President Eisenhower.

The President's guest list generally is a cross section of American business, labor, church, civic and congressional leaders, Snyder stated.

He said that he doesn't know of any criticism from labor regarding alleged dinner slights, and does not anticipate any.

The President, shortly after taking office, tossed a series of get-acquainted dinners, mostly for members of congress. Later he broadened the guest list to include almost anyone he was interested in talking to, and on one occasion this enveloped most of the major union leaders.

The present policy of mixed dinner groups will continue at the White House, Snyder said. He knows of no current plans for an all-labor dinner, despite the lack of affection the AFL displayed for a White House explanation of Durkin's recent resignation. This was delivered to a cool audience in St. Louis by Vice President Nixon.

Labor publications, along with Democratic party leaders, have accused the administration of belonging to bankers and business, and the question was raised in Republican circles regarding the number of businessmen invited to dine at the White House table.

The White House reply is that no such slight is intended now or in the future. If the President has a labor problem—and there are few since the Durkin resignation who doubt that he has—he will use the dinner table to discuss it with labor leaders.

No such invitations are currently in the mail, however and Mr. Eisenhower is searching for Durqin's replacement.

CROSSTOWN By Roland Coe

"Off hand, I'd say were being EXPLOITED!"

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Series and U.N.

Scene — The General Assembly of the United Nations.

A Delegate (feeling the current world series suspense) — What's the score?

Poland — I object to the introduction of that question at this time. It is not properly on the agenda. The purpose of such an inquiry is merely to divert attention from more serious items before us.

United States — I submit the question 'What's the score?' is the foremost issue before the world at this time. Everybody here has a right to know the score. The charge has too often been made that we of the U.N. do not know the score. Let us disprove that contention.

Nobody can deny that the world series is a matter of considerable importance, indeed, the happiness and sorrow of millions are involved.

It is my delegation's view that a play-by-play telecast in this assembly would be desirable, but I do not press it.

England — If I may say so, I am constrained to think that my government will go along with the free world in admitting the query 'What is the tally?' Indeed I would go so far as to favor a statement of what inning it is and which gentleman is delivering the spheroid. That settled, we can proceed with the routine business.

Russia — As the whole world knows this is an attempt to promote discord and play into the hands of the Anglo-American bloc. The so-called world series is a device employed to increase the profits of the monopolistic interests dealing in frankfurters, peanuts, scorecards, and pencils, radio and TV sets.

It is played for the enrichment of the ruthless liniment, resin, plug tobacco and beer trust. Its purpose is to blind people to the facts of life and conceal the operations of warmongers.

India — My government desires to interject a note of harmony, although it will abstain in the voting. It proposes a commission to find out what the score is. To avoid wounded feelings on either side it might be well to give the score but not name the teams, thus not revealing which is ahead and which is behind. If this is too much, the commission might give half the score now and the other half six months from now when feelings have cooled off.

Voice From the Street — Wow! What a sock! It went out of the park! Can that guy pickle 'em!

Russia — The USSR desires to move that the windows be closed or that this session be adjourned until an atmosphere more suitable to a three-hour speech develops.

A Voice — Viva Brooklyn!

Another Voice — Hooray for the Yanks.

Russia—Bezboli Warmongers! Capitalistic spies! Betrayers of the people!

United States — Madam Chairman, I have an important announcement to make. Some of the seats of the satellite states are empty, as you have observed. Never have so many delegates gone over to the side of the free world and asked asylum at least until the end of the series. I move a recess for a complete boxscore.

Chairlady — So voted. Tell me more about Campanella and Mickey Mantle!

Ex-President Truman is for the four freedoms and Bob Wagner, not necessarily in the order named. "Bob is my kind of Democrat," says Harry . . Wagner is now searching his record to find when he threatened to kick the duff out of a music critic, wore loud beach costumes and called the Hiss hunt a "red herring."

The PO Department has issued a stamp in honor of the trucking industry. This should make all the other stamps get out of the way fast. We were almost run over by a truck getting across the street to the postoffice to buy a stamp, and what a close call we had getting back! . . .

Ima Dodo thinks that the new Broadway play "Take A Giant Step" is starring Leo Durocher.

Maybe Rudolf Bing is singing it "All the Traubel I've Seen etc."

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" opened in Hartford, Conn. this week . . . Lincoln, Neb., Pontiac, Mich. and Plymouth, Mass. were obviously not available.

"All across the country people are at work stirring up suspicion of our public servants and our fellow citizens. All over the country there are zealots clamoring for somebody's head"—Harry Truman . . They're especially noticeable at the Democratic banquets and at meetings of party leaders.

Gift of Land Given Bucyrus School System

BUCYRUS—Gift of 1.7 acres of land to the city school system was announced here by officials of the Timken Roller Bearing Co., which operates two plants in Bucyrus.

The land adjoins the Lincoln grade school on the city's north side and will be used for possible expansion of the school, School Supt. I. J. Miller said today.

Gift of the property was accepted at a meeting of Timken officials, school board members and Supt. Miller. With the acceptance of the tract, there now is space available for construction of an addition to the building if a $625,000bond issue is approved by voters next month, Supt. Miller pointed out.

An addition to the Lincoln building would occupy two-thirds of the new area and eliminate the need of erecting the addition in front of the present building, school officials pointed out.

The donated land is part of Timken's north end plant site. The company has about $6,000,000 invested in its second plant on the Lincoln Highway at the east edge of Bucyrus.

QUESTIONED. Delmar Leffler, 19-year-old bridegroom of three months, is shown during questioning by police in St. Johns, Mich. Sheriff Percy Patterson said Leffler admitted crushing the skull of his 16-year-old bride, Betty, with a baseball bat because, "I was fed up with married life." Mrs. Leffler is in critical condition.

Insurance Firm Files Suit in Bucyrus Fire

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—A petition has been filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by the American States Insurance Co., Indianapolis, Ind., against W. Harold Wilson, a Bucyrus automobile dealer, as a result of a fire at the Wilson garage last March.

The insurance firm seeks judgment of $1,150 for damages allegedly caused to a car, belonging to Norris L. Crismore, Bucyrus, and insured by the company. The car was in the garage for repairs at the time of the fire.

If all the salt in the oceans were extracted, it is estimated that it it would cover the land areas of the earth to a depth of about 110 feet, says the national Geographic Society.

The Social -:- Notebook

A NUPTIAL high mass in St. Mary Catholic Church Saturday morning solemnized the marriage of Miss Mary Catherine Wilmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Frank J. Wilmes of the Richland Pk. and Raymond P. Zink of Columbus. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Zink of Omaha, Neb.

Bouquets of chrysanthemums were the all-white decorations on the main and side altars The ceremony was at 9:30 o'clock with Rev. Father Edward Hudacek, assistant pastor, officiating.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of Skinner's satin Styled with an empire waistline the portrait neckline was outlined with imported French paillettes and seed pearls and long fitted sleeves tapered into points over the hands. The bouffant skirt, fashioned of tiny gores, cascaded over an old-fashioned hoop and extended into a chapel length train. A half hat of satin leaves outlined in seed pearls held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of white glamellias and ivy.

Mrs Robert Wilmes of Oak Ridge, Tenn., sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Ann Van Kaenel of Ottoville, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. George Kraus of Omaha, Neb., sister of the bridegroom. The attendants wore identical gowns of taffeta and nylon net made with fitted strapless bodices topped with soft folds of nylon net. The bouffant skirts of taffeta formed a scalloped panuer effect over a front panel of nylon net and completing their costumes were shrug jackets with stand-up rolled collars. Their velveteen half hats accented in a leaf motif and worn with theater nose veils, matched their dresses and they carried basket-shaped bouquets of rust and yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Wilmes wore jade green and the bridesmaids' dresses were in an iridescent gold.

Iran Premier Says Reds No Longer Threat

Almost Took Country Over, Zahedi Reports; Criticizes Mossadegh

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Fazollah Zahedi of Iran says the Communists came "very near" taking over his country, but that now the Red threat is "not at all" grave.

"We are determined to keep them quiet and avoid any possible danger," Zahedi said "We are trying to break up their organizations . . . The extent they claimed to have infiltrated (the government) has never been true. But, if we had waited longer to change, there is no doubt that their claim would have been realized."

Zahedi was interviewed, in Tehran, by a representative of U. S. News and World Report, a news magazine published here. The interview was published today.

Zahedi became premier in August in a coup which deposed Mohammed Mossadegh, who had defied an order by Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi ousting him from the premiership and naming Zahedi in his place. It was announced in Tehran yesterday that Mossadegh will be tried on a charge of trying to overthrow the Iranian monarchy. Conviction could result in the death sentence.

Zahedi was asked "how large a mess" he inherited from Mossadegh, and he replied:

"It's very difficult even to imagine, especially on the economic and financial side. It is extremely difficult to describe how much of a mess e left. The main reason was his lack of knowledge of the real situation existing in the country and his inability to maintain control . . .

"There is no doubt that he set us back very much in the economic, financial and political fields . . . . In foreign relations he had no policy and created ill feeling among foreign countries."

4 Series Tickets Bring $115, Police Step In

NEW YORK (AP)—Police arrested 16 speculators yesterday for selling tickets to World Series baseball games.

Two of the men allegedly sold four $7 tickets for $115 to plainclothesmen. All were charged with violating a law forbidding the reselling of tickets without a broker's license.

There are four "United States" in the Western Hemisphere, the United States of America, the United Mexican States, the United States of Brazil and the United States of Venezuela.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Both social workers and trade unionists have a stake in preserving the dignity of man, Martin Durkin, former secretary of labor, said last night.

Durkin, head of the AFL Plumbers Union, told delegates to the National Conference of Catholic Charities convention that "social work, when it is positive, attempts to aid men to recapture human dignity. Trade unionism fights to prevent the loss of this dignity."

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An 18-year-old youth gave up his job and traveled more than 1,500 miles to help a boyhood pal who lies paralyzed in St. Louis County Hospital.

The second step is, of course, the arrangement of the individual pieces into an attractive display. Proper and careful blending actually enhances the beauty of the flowers, and makes for a beautiful and long-to-be-remembered memory picture.

Sohio announces a new way to buy anti-freeze

Ordinarily when you protect your radiator with non-evaporative anti-freeze in the Fall, you're never sure but what you'll need to add more later on to replace what may be lost through leakage or other causes.

But now there is a way to buy non-evaporative anti-freeze which completely eliminates the possibility of that expense! It is new and different because with it you don't just buy anti-freeze; you buy winter-long protection. It's called Sohio Guaranteed Radiator Protection. And it costs you no more than the price of one fill of other non-evaporative anti-freezes without the guarantee!

No extra charge for extra anti-freeze

With Guaranteed Radiator Protection, Sohio guarantees that one fill of Atlas Perma-Guard will keep your radiator protected to 20° below zero all winter long. If a radiator check any time during the winter shows that you have lost protection through leakage or any cause, Sohio will add enough Atlas Perma-Guard free of extra charge to restore your protection to 20° below zero.

How Guaranteed Radiator Protection works

Here, step by step, is exactly how Guaranteed Radiator Protection works:

1. YOU GET A COMPLETE COOLING SYSTEM CHECK-UP as part of your Sohio Guaranteed Radiator Protection. Your Sohio man checks your radiator hose, connections, and cooling system to be sure they're watertight.

2. YOU GET THE HIGHEST QUALITY ANTI-FREEZE—Atlas Perma-Guard! Can't boil away, prevents rust, won't eat hose. One fill lasts all winter. With Guaranteed Radiator Protection, you get enough Atlas Perma-Guard to keep your radiator safe to 20° below.

3. YOU GET A WRITTEN GUARANTEE that the solution in your radiator will be protected against loss until April 1, 1954. Sohio Guaranteed Radiator Protection tag attaches directly to your radiator—your assurance of continued protection.

4. YOU GET ADDED PROTECTION IF NECESSARY. If a radiator check anytime during the winter shows that the protection point has risen more than 5 degrees, Sohio adds free enough Atlas Perma-Guard to restore the original protection.

Limited time only

Guaranteed Radiator Protection is a new, exclusive Sohio service for Ohio motorists. You can get it only by getting your Atlas Perma-Guard at Sohio before November 15th—ahead of the last-minute rush. So see your Sohio man soon.

Business Places Checked

Fire Prevention Week Activities Begin

National Fire Prevention Week began in Marion and the rest of the country Sunday. While no formal demonstrations or programs were held here on opening day, activities began in full force this morning.

At 10 a m city officials participated in a drawing of names of business establishments which were to be given a spot check for fire hazards. After the drawing, fire department officals went to the stores chosen and made a complete inspection of the premises.

Participating in the drawing held in front of the courthouse, were Mayor Harold Robinson, Safety Service Director Ralph Forrest, Police Chief Tom Coon, and Fire Chief Owen Sifritt.

NAMES OF all business places in the downtown area were placed in a container and the ones to be inspected were drawn from this group.

The fire prevention campaign reached outside the city limits to the county as officials tried to educate persons on the best manner to cut down on the fires which last year destroyed an estimated $800 million worth of property across the nation.

School children will be given special demonstrations and talks during the week. County 4-H and FFA members will also be given talks, and literature which they will be urged to take home and give parents in an attempt to make their farms safer from the threat of fire.

BUSINESS CLUBS, meeting for luncheons during the week will also hear speakers describe the damage done by fire and the best way to combat it in the home, office, and factory.

Special radio and television programs during the week will continue to try to get the message of safety to home makers. School children will be given check sheets with which they may inspect their own homes to determine the relative safety of the building

All business places in the city will be given a fire inspection sometime before the end of the month. Persons who wish to have their private houses inspected may arrange it by calling the fire department.

HUMAN CARELESSNESS is called the biggest fire hazard of all by the National Fire Protection Association. Smoking, careless handling of matches, and failure to keep heating and lighting equipment in proper shape were cited by the group as the three main causes of fire.

Proclamations by President Eisenhower and Mayor Robinson made the observance of Fire Prevention Week in Marion official. In Mayor Robinson's proclamation, he ordered city officials to take steps to arouse the public to the seriousness of the fire problem

The Chamber of Commerce, fire department, county agricultural agencies and other groups have joined together to help make the program a success. They will try to cut down the fires which last year caused nearly $300,000 worth of property damage in Marion.

and about the free enterprise system by saying the last 25 years will perhaps be marked by historians as the "most momentous quarter century in the history of mankind"

He said that by serving here in Marion during the perilous times of the depression, he was brought to a closer friendship with his associates than he would have experienced in ordinary times.

Then he went on to review briefly the war and the post-war period which brought this present period in which he said, "There is peace, but there is no peace."

DR. BOWMAN PRAISED the "unsung heroes" whose efforts made the building a success. He called their jobs efforts in the cause of freedom, liberty and democracy

Bowman used as his topic, "It Is Not Too Late" He told the audience he got the title from a poem by Tennyson, which he read near the close of his speech.

Using that as his theme, he said the erection of the new building was not too late to help the youth of the city.

THE INVOCATION was spoken by Rev Howard L Olewiler, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who gave a prayer of thanks to God for instilling the people working on the building with the spirit of generosity which made it a success

Wiant then introduced Jack Bray who made the introduction of Dr Bowman

After the address the Serenaders led by I G Jones led the audience in the singing of the doxology This was followed by a benediction by Rev Harold V Falor, pastor of Oakland EUB Church.

These Days - By George Sokolsky

It is curious that Europeans and Asiatics continue to talk about the change of attitude of the Russians, the new policy of Malenkov, and the prospect of a more peaceful solution of the problems arising between the United States and Soviet Russia.

SOKOLSKY

Yesterday's disappointments are readily forgotten in the hopes of tomorrow. Actually nothing has occurred since Stalin's death even to indicate a revolutionary change in the perspective of Soviet Russia in its relationship with other countries. There have been words, but no actions. There has been propaganda, but no implementation.

THE KOREAN truce gives the impression of being a tremendous Russian step toward peace, but the methods employed by the Chinese and Korean Communists, under Russian direction, are the same old game of procrastination, delay and postponement.

The Russians know that the United States is obligated to open the political conference by Oct 28, but Vishinsky continues to try every trick in his bag to confuse the situation, to raise false issues, to arouse the hopes of small nations to play big parts, realizing that the United States cannot and will not agree to any changes in the procedural arrangement already voted in the General Assembly of the United Nations. Everything is done to delay.

The war in Indo-China continues, and the Russians conduct an agitation in France that it is the United States which insists that the war here continue. They are advertising it as an American war against an Asiatic people. Yet, it was the Kremlin that ordered that war against France. One would imagine, from the Russian statements concerning the Indo-Chinese war, that that country had not been a French colonial area since 1862 and continues to be to this day.

THE CONFUSIONS raised by these Russian agitations may be brilliant psychological warfare, but they are not indicative of any change of Russian policy or tactics since the death of Stalin, or for that matter since the death of Lenin in 1924.

The fact is that Soviet Russia is following a continuous permanent policy of world conquest which is essential in the Marxist concept of one world—a world that is nationless, raceless, classless, centering in the Kremlin and governed by a Marxist elite. There can be no question that at long last those in control of the American foreign policy, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, have grasped the essential nature of the Marxist goal and they understand that a step back, for a moment, even for a good reason, is a rest only to gather strength to make two steps forward, if possible.

Lenin made the retreat a tactical method in the strategy of world conquest. It was for this reason that John Foster Dulles abandoned the "containment policy" as inadequate and impractical. It is impossible to contain a country determined upon a universal empire, short of war.

YET, NOTHING stands still. The abandonment of a policy, long held and implemented, by a series of actions, even involving limited wars, must be replaced by some other policy because the challenge of events requires immediate responses. And such challenges are accelerated by the very existence of the United Nations, which affords member and now even non-member states a forum to state their cases and to attack, if they choose, their opponents and their betters.

The Eisenhower administration is meeting these numerous challenges by taking a position that is more positive, more nationalistic, more coherent in the philosophic sense than this country has witnessed in two decades. This attitude has encountered considerable opposition in Europe, as witness Clement Attlee's anti-American speech in the course of which he tried to convey the impression that the United States was the international trouble-maker.

YET, ACTUALLY those nations with whom we have to do business are better off in their relations with the United States because they have a clearer idea of what American purposes and policies are.

The role of Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. in the United Nations is a case in point. He speaks up and although some of his European colleagues have ridiculed him for his lack of diplomacy, actually Lodge has presented his country as tough-minded, conciliatory but not compromising, clear as to intentions but willing to help the cause of peace. He represents a stronger position than his American predecessors in the United Nations.

Inside Labor — By Victor Riesel

There would have been another unsolved murder of a labor leader in St. Louis last week, but the home-made bomb didn't go off. Had the fuse not died some 18 inches from the gallon paint can which held the 10 dynamite sticks under a percussion cap, the AFL convention would have shaken more than one

RIESEL

[illegible] big, tough, cruel Larry Callanan might have been blown right through the roof of his Steamfitters' Union headquarters—and the ensuing probe would have led to a national network, stretching throughout the AFL, which the convention hoped would fade away, taking the ouster of the Longshoremen's Union as a warning.

Callanan, now under Federal indictment for extortion, symbolizes a sleezy relationship with characters who are not at all amusing despite their Damon Runyonesque speech. And since there are Callanans in many cities doing favors for these underworld characters, mixing with them and making a business out of their unions, let's look at him for a minute.

CALLANAN, LIKE several hundred other regional labor barons who care little for the AFL except that its label gives them enormous power, is tied up with the nation's race tracks. Because of that, he is a power in the St. Louis Democratic party—and this is no partisan crack at the party there, because these boys play both sides of the street.

Trouble is, however, that the country keeps watching a sick old waterfront "czar" like Joe Ryan and forgets that there are hundreds like him doing big business and rapidly becoming part of what I like to call labor's own "mulcting millionaires." And it should be said right here that they loathe George Meany and the other AFL chiefs who they believe are killing off a good business thing with the federation's incipient anti-racket crusade.

Like I said, Callanan is typical in an area where gambling concessions on big construction projects are worth upward of $50,000 to any syndicate which wants to place its bookies in the plants on [illegible] shop stewards. There are other ways to make money. Back in 1951 Larry Callanan, now under indictment on charges of seeking a cool $50,000 shakedown, forced a heating contractor out of business for bidding on government work without his permission. Then a similar company, in which the union leaders had a financial interest, got the choice contracts.

IN THIS CANDID portrait of power boys inside labor who don't seem to care much about what they're doing to their own movement, I don't want to skip casually over Detroit, where the AFL boss for generations has been Frank Martel. This man has been deep in many a printing enterprise, which now is being looked into by the AFL's national office. He also found his way into the Kefauver testimony during a look-see into an arrogant fellow by name of Santo Perrone, on whom adjectives are wasted because he can't read.

Perrone, part of a tough strike-breaking crowd, testified in court that he had been sentenced to Leavenworth for six years. After being questioned on the murder of a woman, possession of small and big arms, several beatings and the distilling of bootleg gin, Perrone was asked how he got out on parole. Oh, he said, he had recommendations from many peopplpep—and Frank Martel was one of those who sent a letter. Perrone asserted. Now why would Martel do a little thing like that?

Frankie must have had his reasons—as did the important midwest Congressman, the top New York politicians, the high AFL officials (some of them friends of Callanan and Martel) who wrote similar letters and made long distance phone calls seeking the release of the master extortioner, [illegible] Joe Fay, expelled boss of the Operating Engineers, now in Sing Sing.

THESE VIGNETTES must be written piecemeal in this columning business. So I throw in for the moment, the man now being investigated by the New York authorities, Joe Fay's own boy, Billy DeKoning, whose favorite phrase to those who fight him is, "The hell with you, I run my own union!" (The operating engineers.) Well, by my count his operation has brought in sums running mighty close to the million-dollar mark. But the money came not only from DeKoning's control of race track labor, as people now seem to think but from control of local unions which tied up the floor waxing field, the home construction field, the window washing field, the cement mixing field, the janitors and, in some instances, the business of respecting or ignoring picket lines.

This is the "system" which the clean national office AFL chiefs know they face. And they now know that only with the help of the daily press in each city can they smash it.

Armed Neutrality — By Inez Robb

I find that many of my fellow citizens have difficulty nowadays understanding what constitutes "neutrality" or "a neutral commission" on the international scene.

In particular, there seems to be a great deal of grumbling about the inclusion of the word "neutral" in "the neutral nations repatriation commission" which is now handling the repatriation of balky war prisoners in Korea.

INEZ ROBB

The grumbling seems to have gained considerable volume since a detachment of unarmed and neutral Indian troops shot and killed some anti-Communist North Korean prisoners the other day.

-:-

IN MY OPINION, this whole regrettable misunderstanding on the part of the American public can be traced to our pig-headed insistence that words mean what they say.

Our stubborn adherence to the old-fashioned meaning of such words as "neutral," "democracy," "peace-loving," "freedom" and "integrity" has left us ill-equipped to deal with modern problems in a free manner.

Our refusal to accept the change in the ground rules made by the Communists, whereby everything means the opposite of what it says, is prone to make us the laughing stock of the international set.

FOR EXAMPLE, the word "neutral" has far more subtle nuances today than in the past. It is imperative now that we know whether an individual or a nation is neutral "for" or neutral "against" another individual, a nation or a situation before a neutral commission is appointed.

Only when this is taken into consideration, does "the neutral nations repatriation commission" now operating in Korea make sense.

Two of the members of this commission, Poland and Czechoslovakia, are unquestionably neutral for Red China and North Korea and neutral against the United Nations and South Korea.

A THIRD MEMBER of the commission is an old pro in the neutrality business, has grown rich on it in the past millinium and is neutral against everyone. That is Switzerland.

The fourth member of the commission is Sweden, a recent entry in the neutrality market and a runner-up to Switzerland.

That leaves us with the fifth and final member of the commission, India.

Now, a great many huffy Americans do not believe that India is a true neutral. But that is because they are thinking in old-fashioned terms.

Under the new ground rules, India certainly qualified. It would be difficult to find a nation more neutral against the United Nations and South Korea.

NOW SOME persons who have read this far may voice a petty objection to the statement way back yonder that "a detachment of unarmed and neutral Indian troops shot and killed some anti-Communist North Korean prisoners."

These disputants will say that no unarmed troop could shoot and kill anyone. But only a few days before the shooting affray, an Indian delegate informed the United Nations that India's troops in Korea were unarmed.

UNDER MODERN semantics and dialectics, the fact that the Indian troops were armed on this particular occasion proves how absolutely neutral India is.

This whole situation simply demonstrates how imperative it is that we Americans master double—think if we are going to play Russian.

No, no! It means neutral-roulet- with the big boys.

Akron Army Officer Aids Korean Boy, 7

SEOUL (AP)—An Akron Army officer has reunited a 7-year-old Korean boy with his family after a year of effort.

Chong Bae, or just plain "Eddie" to the American soldiers who "adopted" him, had wandered through Korea for two years after being separated from relatives during an air raid.

Lt. Col Charles W. Hall finally found him at the Civil Affairs Hospital in Uijohngbu.

Hall plastered bus stations with the boy's picture and advertised in Korean papers for the family.

Last week, just as Hall was planning to legally adopted "Eddie" and send him to the United States, the boy's father and sister showed up.

Sandusky River Down, May Close Fremont Schools

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—The Sandusky River, Fremont's only source of water, hit an extremely low stage today and Mayor Oscar Steirwalt urged housewives to hold up their Monday washing.

The mayor also said he would ask that schools be closed. He said the situation had developed almost over night and filtration plant officials told him the city was using 500,000 gallons a day more than could be supplied.

An emergency ditch is being dug from a pool in the river to the filtration plant.

Weekend rains have eased the water shortage only slightly.

Pavement Plato Speaks Up

Notes From Poor Man's Philosopher

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone opinions of a ppapvement Plato:

Marilyn Monroe is te only girl I ever met who could shrug without moving her shoulders.

There is nothing wrong with the average college graduate that couldn't be cured by a good education.

The surest sign of inflation I know of is that the kid in my old neighborhood who used to swallow grasshoppers for a penny now has a son who won't even look at a worm for less than a dime.

The greatest freedom in the life of a middle-aged woman is the feeling she gets the second she takes off her girdle.

Money can never buy love, and alimony is the price most men pay for finding this out.

A wise man learns early not to wear himself out by repeating his pleasures too often. What is more enjoyable than a single sneeze, or more exhausting than hay fever?

I feel sorry for a color blind man because he has been robbed of the three most glorious sights in nature—a rainbow, the splendor of an autumn landscape, and the beauty of a red-haired girl in full foliage A man who has never fallen in love with a red-haired girl can only know the bliss that goes with ignorance.

Why does every generation of a man pick on the one that succeeds it? The reason probably is just the absent - mindedness of age. Folks who say this crop of teenagers is the worst in history are simply forgetting themselves.

The way many gronwups act today you can't help but wonder if the two greatest differences between adults and adolescents aren't just time and pimples.

Our way of life is getting both simpler and more complex. If you forget to buy an item at the drugstore, you can always pick it up at the supermarket. Many drugs now are regarded as foods, and many foods are being enriched with drugs. The only thing separating the big grocery store from the big drug store is a gentleman's agreement that one won't fill prescriptions if the other refrains from selling raw meat.

While this does make shopping easier, it also makes for harder decisions at home. Where really does the vitamin-fortified bread belong — in the bathroom medicine cabinet beside the aspirin bottle, or in the kitchen chill box above the fresh vegetables? We pause for science's answer.

Appeals Issued By Red Cross In Polio Fight

An urgent appeal for registered nurses for polio duty was made today by L H. Larsen chairman of the Marion County Red Cross Chapter Nineteen nurses are needed in Rochester, N. .Y, and Akron, O , because of the exhaustion of local resources in those communities.

Red Cross officials especially urge inactice registered nurses to respond, Larsen said. Nurses recruited by the Red Cross are paid by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, he added.

"It is not our intention to drain nurses from our community or from duty in which they are vitally needed," Larsen pointed out "However, there are many registered nurses not active in the profession. Perhaps some can arrange their personal affairs to serve during the early period when death or serious crippling may be prevented. In the past, married nurses with children have enrolled for duty in their local hospitals, thereby relieving other nurses for polio duty."

According to the chapter chairman, the Red Cross recruits nurses at the request of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the organization that provides expert polio care for all and meets the cost of treatment when family finances are inadequate The foundation will pay the cost of transportation to places of assignment and will provide maintenance in addition to salary while the nurse is serving in polio work.

All nurses available for polio duty should contact the Marion County Red Cross Chapter at 133 W. Center St , phone 2-1653

HOW AMERICA IS CHANGING

Meet a real American family, the Strykers of Doylestown, Pa. In front, Stephen, William, Mrs. Stryker, Mr. Stryker and Frank. In the rear, Julius III, Gertrude, and Michael

Big families are back in style
—today more couples are having three, four, five - even six children

SINCE 1940, America has had the largest increase of population of any similar period in its history. More people have been getting married and they have been having more children. We are adding over 10,000 new babies to our population every single day!

More children and bigger families are just two of the many great changes we've seen in the last decade. We're also enjoying greater health and longer life than ever before. We're buying more homes—moving to the suburbs—giving our children more and better education. These changes have brought about new needs and new responsibilities.

And life insurance is keeping pace and is constantly growing more flexible to meet our new needs.

To aid families in planning for the future the life insurance companies have created a number of plans like the family income policy. It provides, in addition to the basic insurance, low-cost protection for the children's growing years. Such plans, largely a development of the last twenty years, have grown by three hundred per cent in the last decade alone and today account for more than twenty billion dollars of family protection.

Hundreds of thousands of families own life insurance to assure funds for their children's education. Still others are using the values of their basic policies to provide income for their own retirement years.

A suggestion: Have your needs or circumstances changed? Have you looked over your life insurance to see how it stacks up with your present way of living and the goals you and your family have set for yourselves?

Mrs. Hobby Orders Check

Administration Reviews Social Security Program

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The world's biggest insurance system is getting a new and close inspection, under new management.

The system is the government's social security program of retirement and death benefits, aimed eventually at covering almost all American workers.

The Democrats, who created it, had been pushing it along for 18 years. It became bigger and bigger, picking up more and more momentum in the same general direction, like an incredibly vast snowball rolling downhill.

Now the Republicans have taken over the administration and Congress, Secretary of Welfare Hobby has called in 12 consultants to take a new look.

And on Capitol Hill, Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb) who has been openly dubious about the program for years, is heading a broad study by a special House ways and means subcommittee.

Few government programs mean so much to so many. More than 65 million workers already are in the program. They expect retirement benefits when they reach 65, or payments to their families if they die before 65.

Eventually, in the year 2050, estimates are that the program would cover a minimum of 113 million persons or a maximum of 162 millions.

By that time, benefit payments are estimated to run at 13 to 22 billion dollars a year.

The new inspection is designed to show whether the present program is sound, or whether that snowball is likely to smash up somewhere on the way down the hill.

The inspectors want to know if they should dismantle the present program and start off again on a new one.

They want to know whether they should push that snowball even faster in the same direction, or nudge it over a bit in this direction or that.

Both Curtis and Eisenhower administration spokesmen say they resent any intimation that they are out to wreck or destroy social security. They say they just want to make sure, if they can, that the system for protecting the aged is sound, adequate, and fair.

Thus these basic principles behind the present system are up for study:

It is called contributory. That is, only persons who have paid into the system are eligible for benefits. Generally, the more you pay in, the more you receive. But there are some important exceptions.

It is self-supporting. All the benefits are to be paid from special, earmarked taxes levied for that single purpose and kept in a separate fund. It is not even included in the regular federal budget.

It is based on a level premium. The tax steps up at five-year intervals, from the present 3 per cent of payrolls up to $3,600, to 6½ per cent in 1970. But then it is due to remain constant, although Congress has the right to change it any time.

It is based on a trust fund. The level premium is expected to produce far more income than actually needed for many years, building up a big surplus or trust fund. Interest from this fund then is expected to bridge the gap when payments climb above tax income.

(For contrast, under pay-as-you-go system, taxes would be fixed each year, to pay for that particular year's benefits.)

It has no need test. You can qualify for benefits if you have worked long enough under the program, whether you have a million dollars or a penny.

It is a retirement plan, not an annuity. You don't get a pension automatically at age 65, even if eligible. You have to retire first. You are considered retired if you earn less than $75 a month in employment covered by the program.

Almost all these basic principles have been challenged, by one source or another.

GI Sentenced To Die In Slaying on Okinawa

TOKYO (AP)—Airman 2. C. Sherman F. Gravitt, 21, was sentenced to death Friday for the slaying of a military police officer on Okinawa, the Far East Air Forces announced today.

The Philadelphia airman was convicted of murdering 1st Lt. Bernard Geller on Okinawa last July 28.

Geller's patrol was called to an Okinawa village near Naha air base.

Testimony at the four-day trial brought out that Gravitt, using a stolen carbine, had wounded an Okinawan. He fired at Geller when the officer ordered him to stop. Gravitt then took a service revolver from the lieutenant and wounded an MP corporal, Wilford Warren.

The sentence is subject to review all the way to the President.

ACROSS THE COUNTER

At some time or other, nearly all of us buy a new car, or trade for a later model. Naturally, one of the first problems that arises is the Auto Insurance.

With the policies we sell (and this is generally true of other companies) your newly acquired car is automatically insured for 30 days. The limit of coverage is the same as applied to the old car.

Earl J. Andrews

This means there is no necessity to buy a new insurance policy when you buy a new or newer car. Otherwise, you may find yourself with two policies, one of which may be cancelled at short rate. You would lose money.

The best course is to "arrange" your own insurance. Notify the agent promptly when you do switch cars. The new car may merit different coverages than you had before. Also, endorsements may be needed to protect the interest of the bank or other lending agency, if financing is involved.

Remember, if you want to change auto insurance companies, the logical time to do it is when the policy expires, not when you trade cars

And, consult US for information on any insurance line — including Automobile.

Low-Cost Color TV Tube Made by CBS

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System today announced that a low-cost and vastly improved color television picture tube for home receivers is now ready for mass production.

The new tube was described as revolutionary by Bruce A. Coffin, president of CBS-Hytron, electronic tube manufacturing division of CBS.

CBS said the tube, called CBS-Colortron, is simple to mass produce in large-screen picture sizes, as well as in rectangular shapes, retaining the same qualities of stability and dependability of performance as black and white tubes.

CBS said the Colortron tubes will be available to home color television receiver manufacturers this fall.

Southwestern Ohio Gets Rain

Dry Areas Get Some Help But Not Enough

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rain fell on some parts of parched southwestern Ohio last night but there wasn't enough to bring much relief from the long drought.

And there definitely wasn't enough to be of any help to communities, particularly in Clermont County, where public water supplies almost are exhausted.

Although there was a hard downpour in some parts of Cincinnati, other sections of Hamilton County reported only a slight shower. Downtown Cincinnati was drenched but the Abbe Conservatory recorded only one-tenth of an inch.

Cincinnati hasn't had any appreciable rainfall since Sept 4 when the precipitation amounted to .66 of an inch and the last good rain before that was on Aug. 8.

Water from Grant Lake in Brown County was being pumped into Cloverlick Creek and starter on its way dowastream to Bethel (Clermont County) which has been without any public water service for a week.

It will be several days before the water reaches the Bethel waterworks pumping station.

Williamsburg residents also worked yesterday to increase the supply for their waterworks pumping station. They used bulldozers, picks and shovels to open a channel in the east fork of the Little Miami River to a deep pool upstream.

All non-essential use of water has been banned in Williamsburg.

The group joined members of Post No. 3313, VFW for a fish fry following the meeting.

COLUMBUS STRIKE OVER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A four-day strike of 500 employes at three Ranco, Inc., plants in Columbus was scheduled to end today. A compromise agreement was reached yesterday, settling the first Ranco strike in 40 years. The firm manufactures electric thermostats and other products. The workers are represented by the AFL Machinists Union. The agreement provides a wage raise of from four to eight cents an hour and other benefits.

Robert C. Ulmer of Bucyrus and James W. Richards of 125 W. Farming St., Marion, were honored by the Marion District Staff of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. at a dinner recently in the ballroom at Hotel Harding.

The occasion marked 20 years of service with the company by the honored guests.

Ellsworth Schneider, assistant manager in the company's office at Elyria, and president of the Northern Ohio Chapter of the Metropolitan Veterans Association, inducted the honored guests into the Association, which is made up of all Metropolitan employes having 20 or more years of service with the company.

William L. Ashworth, assistant manager in the local office, acted as master of ceremonies. John Waddell of Marion, assistant manager, and Ernest Smith, agent in the Marion office and William H. Goodwin, manager of the Marion District, gave talks.

C. O. Miller presented gifts of luggage to Mr. Richards and Mr. Ulmer. Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Ulmer were presented orchid corsages.

Music during the dinner hour was by Billy Johnston of Green Camp. During the evening Mrs. James Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, who recently returned from Germany where her husband was stationed with the 37th Division of the U. S. Army, talked on her experiences there and on general conditions in Europe.

Wives of the district representatives were guests together with the clerical staff.

2 Fliers Cancel Plans For Endurance Record

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Two Salt Lake City pilots said yesterday they have abandoned plans to try to break the world's light plane endurance record this year.

Capt. Calvin E. Cowley and Don H. Bean tried four times to smash the mark of 47 days. Their goal was 50 days but last week they landed after five days in the air, their longest sky stay.

Three times the men were grounded by mechanical failures. The last time they came down because vibration and the slosh of gasoline in a special tank prevented them from sleeping.

Crawford Refunds Placed at $16,040

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Auditor Albert Stetzer said here today that conservancy district tax refunds, totaling $16,040, will be made to county taxpayers within the next couple months.

The auditor said work on the tax refund will be started as soon as official notification is received to refund the collections. While preparing and mailing the refund checks will be costly, it will cost less than attempting to credit taxpayers for future payments for the amount of the tax, according to Stetzer.

The Ohio Supreme Court ruled recently that the three-tenths of a mill levy for the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District was a tax instead of an assessment and was collected illegally.

The court's decision that the levy was a tax requires that the proposal be either submitted to the voters or approved by the county budget commission in counties where the 10-mill legal limitation has not been reached.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Reconnaissance aircraft flew far out over the Atlantic today to look at a growing hurricane already packing winds of 80 to 90 miles an hour.

The tropical storm, seventh of the season and named Gail for the seventh letter of the alphabet, was reported about 810 miles east of Guadeloupe, French Antilles, and 2,500 miles southeast of Florida yesterday.

At its present rate of travel it was still a week away from the North American mainland.

Migrating Birds Strike Skyscrapers in Boston

BOSTON (AP)—Hundreds of small birds migrating south from Canada have been killed in collisions with Boston's taller buildings.

The John Hancock Building, Boston's tallest, has claimed an average of 30 to 40 birds a week since they began migrating.

An Audubon Society official explained the birds, mostly warblers and thrushes, apparently don't judge distances well and attempt to dodge the building's lighted tower by flying beneath it.

Just one quart a day of either Gail Borden Whole or Skimmed Milk, brings you the minimum adult daily requirements of nine of the most important vitamins and minerals!*

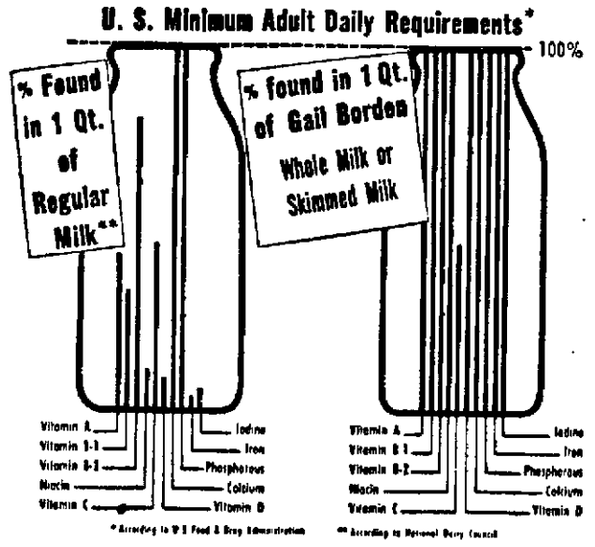
Medical and public health surveys show that many Americans suffer from vitamin and mineral deficiencies—even when spending more than average for food. Gail Borden vitamin and mineral fortified milk helps guard your family against such a lack.

A scientific triumph!

Nothing is added to Gail Borden milk except the nutrients naturally found in milk—but normally present in quantities usually too small for optimum human needs.

Science now makes it possible to add extra quantities of these essential vitamins and minerals to milk. The exact formula used in Gail Borden is the result of years of research—much of it by Borden's own world-renowned scientists.

This chart tells the story



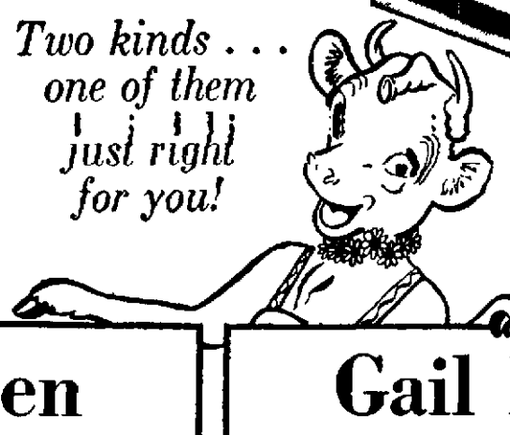
This shows the percent of minimum adult daily needs of vitamins and minerals supplied by one quart of regular milk—and by one quart of Gail Borden Milk, either whole or skimmed.

Gail Borden is not fortified with vitamin C because this vitamin is unstable. It is found abundantly in fruits and vegetables.

Ask your doctor!

When your doctor questions the adequacy of the vitamin and mineral content of your diet, ask him about Gail Borden Whole or Skimmed Milk.

Two kinds . . . one of them just right for you!



Both kinds delivered to your door or at your favorite store

Light kept out . . . flavor and vitamins kept in!

This improved milk is protected by amber glass bottles and opaque one-way containers. The actinic rays of sunlight, even when indirect, can greatly harm the vitamin content and flavor of milk.

These containers screen out most of such harmful rays, helping to keep the full vitamin content and fine fresh flavor of Gail Borden Milk.

The biggest 1c value in town!

Gail Borden Milk costs just one cent a quart more than our regular homogenized milk. The same vitamin and mineral protection in capsule form would cost much more than this! And of course, Gail Borden Skimmed Milk is even lower in price. This is why we say Gail Borden is such a big value money-wise!

Gail Borden Signature Quality Whole Milk

Gail Borden is pure, whole milk . . . produced under ideal conditions . . . and especially guarded all the way from Borden-inspected farms to you. It is homogenized for even flavor and richness, and for easy digestability.

The fortification with extra vitamins and minerals does not change the flavor of Gail Borden Milk in any way whatever. As far as flavor is concerned, Gail Borden is just pure, fresh homogenized milk. But when it comes to nutrition, it is far more! It can be your extra margin of nutritional safety.

Everyone realizes the importance of vitamins and minerals in the diet—but many of us do nothing about it. Instead of eating what we need, we prefer to eat what we like. That's what makes Gail Borden so perfect for your diet . . . because most everyone likes milk. And even though you do not drink an entire quart every day—whatever amount you do drink gives you that much extra protection!

Gail Borden Signature Quality Skimmed Milk

Persons on a diet should be especially careful to get plenty of vitamins, minerals and proteins. When the amount of food is reduced, it becomes difficult to get enough of these essential "protective" nutrients. Yet your need for them remains just as high as ever!

Gail Borden Skimmed Milk solves this difficulty! One quart contains only 421 calories . . . but it will supply you with 100% of the minimum adult daily needs of nine out of ten essential vitamins and minerals . . . and in addition, 54% of the normal protein needs.

With Gail Borden Skimmed Milk, you can reduce—safely! First, of course, get the advice of your doctor. Then use Gail Borden to help plan a low-calorie diet with an extra margin of vitamins, minerals and proteins. Gail Borden Skimmed Milk contains extra amounts of non-fat milk solids—and these add to the flavor as well as the nutritive content. Gail Borden Skimmed Milk doesn't taste at all like ordinary "skim"!

Could Provide Balance of Power

U.S., Russians Believed Nearing Atomic Impasse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some top U S policy makers believe the United States and Russia are approaching an atomic stalemate

Some think this may tend to stabilize relationships of the big powers and so contribute to development of more peaceful relations, however uneasy.

At the same time, foreign policy experts believe a situation approaching a diplomatic stalemate perhaps influenced by the shifting military power balance but more likely by other factors, is already at hand.

Questions Soviet Intent

State Department officials generally believe the Soviets are actively avoiding any real negotiations concerning Germany now and will do so for many months to come They question whether the Reds want to talk seriously about the Far East, although their position is relatively stronger there.

The combination of an atomic stalemate, if it becomes an accepted fact in great power policies, and a diplomatic standoff might very well freeze the present state of relationships indefinitely even without any formal East-West agreements to that effect

The essence of the atomic balance is simple. With its reported mastery of a hydrogen explosion and its established atomic progress, Russia is close to the point of achieving a kind of balance with the United States.

Believe U. S. Still Has Edge

Most estimates are that the United States retains a sizable margin in the number of bombs stockpiled But the destructive power of the big bombs is so great that equality of numbers is not the key to their effect on military strategy The key is the number required to do a devastating amount of damage.

The spreading idea that an atomic stalemate is approaching stems from the estimate that the United States and Russia will soon be able to do devastating injury to each other

The stalemate theory apparently is having considerable influence on government estimates that war in the near future is not likely. This is an alternative to the notion that when the Reds had atomic wea-18- Thoeer pndea rhcens tovelnetst pons in their arsenal the danger of war would immediately increase.

There is no evidence that responsible officials think the danger has actually increased.

Drought Holds Up Harvesting

Bean Yield Reported Good, Drop Predicted

Soy bean harvesting in Marion County is running a little behind schedule this year. Main blame for the condition was placed on the droughts which plagued the area during the summer.

A spokesman for the Green Camp Cooperative Elevator Co. said the yield so far has been about 25 bushels to the acre, which is above average. He added the quality of the beans brought in so far was fairly good

Ellwood Parrott of the Marion County Agricultural Extension Service, reports that moisture being held by weeds not yet killed by frost is delaying the ripening in most sections of the county, and expressed doubt that the 25 bushel per acre figure would be the average for the entire county

He said when more farmers begin to bring in their harvests, the yield would probably decline.

The spokesmen at the elevator in Green Camp said the beans were not only ripening slowly this year, but were ripening very unevenly. They might ripen today in one field, but not until next week on an adjoining field

Farmers who planted their beans late were the ones who are now waiting for ripening, he said Late plantings did not get the benefit of early summer rains and so came up later than usual.

He added that the beans would probably continue to be brought into the elevators in the area for another month, and said the same opinion was expressed by other grain elevator operators in the area with whom he had talked.

The Smithsonian Institution says cockroaches will eat almost any kind of foodstuff.

Yankees Call on Whitey Ford in Bid To End Series

Erskine Given Nod After Brooklyn Goes Down 11-7

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It's almost a sure thing these days that the two World Series teams will play themselves one awful game along about midway, the shortage of really good pitchers being what it is, and the Yankees and Dodgers turned theirs in yesterday.

The final score was 11-7 in favor of the Yankees, which meant that the American Leaguers went into today's sixth and possibly final game leading by three victories to two.

The four-time-straight world champions were back in their own park in the Bronx with their crack young left-hander, Whitey Ford, on the mound. The Dodgers, needing desperately to win this one, were relying on their new World Series strikeout king, Carl Erskine.

Considering his brilliant exploit of only three days ago, when he fanned 14 Yankees and beat them by 3-2, Erskine looked like a very good bet to knot the playoff at 3-3 and sent it into its binding game tomorrow. But Charlie Dressen, the Brooklyn manager, was ready to shoot the works.

"If he's needed, Preacher Roe will be ready to relieve," he said last night. "I would like to save him to start the seventh game, but I won't be saving anybody when these games are playing out the way they are now. I worked him with only three days rest not long ago, thinking about this, and the Preach looked all right."

There was much opinion that the Yanks had more to worry about today than the Dodgers had. Few who watched Erskine throttle the champs two days ago and who saw what angry, humiliated athletes there were later in the dressing room could imagine that they would give the handsome right-hander trouble. But they could easily imagine the Brooks' right-handed power taking great chunks out of Ford again.

Ford lasted only one inning when he started the fourth game at Ebbets Field.

Dressen had his right-handed explosives planted again today, with Jackie Robinson hitting third and Roy Campanella fourth, Duke Snider, left-handed hitter, was down in the sixth slot, below Gil Hodges. Charlie was very confident that his right-hand array would knock Ford loose.

Six home runs were hit in all yesterday, but there is some doubt that any one of them would have been a home run in Yankee Stadium, where there is room for balls to travel in left field. The guess here is that five would have been long outs at the Stadium and that Mickey Mantle's grand slammer in the third inning would have been a triple over Jackie Robinson's head.

Yesterday's game was a sloppy contest. Each club made six earned runs. The Yankees scored five times in the third inning after they should have been out and Johnny Podres, the juvenile who started pitching for the Dodgers, should have been out of trouble.

With two Yanks away, Podres got Collins, the first baseman, to slap a ball sharply down the right line Gil Hodges muffed it beautifully, letting a run across. This appeared to ruffle the Dodger pitcher. He proceeded to hit the next batter and walk the bases full.

Dressen replaced him with temperamental Russ Meyer, who had been warming up since the game began. The bases were loaded. There stood Meyer and there stood Mantle, the latter not having been able to hit a baseball with a bass-fiddle in his most recent attempts.

Meyer came in overhand with his first pitch Mantle, who had been hit on his throwing hand and sorely hurt in pregame batting practice, knocked it far and away into the upper deck in left field. That made the score 6-1, and whatever happened after that was pretty much lost in the shuffle.

By the end of the seventh inning the Yanks were leading 9-2, partly on the strength of Billy Martin's two-run homer in that chapter. They were 10-2 by the time the Dodgers finally laid into Jim McDonald for four runs in the last of the eighth, mainly on Billy Cox's three-run, line-drive homer just over the left barrier. The ppoint had been reached where there was some surprise that a ball remained inside the bandbox park.

What little drama there was in the one-sided contest was saved for the last of the ninth. Junior Gilliam led it off with another punch over the left railing, leaving the Dodgers only four runs in arrears. Peewee Reese followed with a fly out to left, but Snider punched a clean single to right.

That brought Casey Stengel bowlegging it out from the bench and waving toward the Yankee bullpen. In came Allie Reynolds to pitch to Jackie Robinson, and two more Yank pitchers promptly began warming up. Nobody knew, actually whether Allie's back, badly bent in the first game, had recovered sufficiently for him to pitch.

Turned out it had. The Chief missed a couple outside, and then came in with one that Robby smashed viciously toward Billy Martin at second. Billy got right down on the ground to take it, tossed to Phil Rizzuto to start a double play and the game was over.

Midwest Grid Teams on Top In Power Tests

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown. Shakespeare wrote many centuries ago, but he didn't have the Notre Dame Football team in mind.

Frank Leahy's men ruled the college football roost today, and they have no reason to fear anyone. They don't play this Saturday, so they'll have two weeks to sharpen their claws for the University of Pittsburgh two weeks hence.

It's been four years since the Irish stood atop the pile. In 1950 they won only four games and Leahy turned out to be right in his pessimistic predictions. The last two seasons they've been threatening to come back by scoring seven triumphs and losing but two each year.

After Pitt, they meet Georgia Tech, which looks to be heading for a fall with its 29-game undefeated skein. After that, it's Navy, Penn, North Carolina, Iowa, Southern California and Southern Methodist.

The Irish beat the tar out of Purdue Saturday, 37-7, right on the heels of hanging a 28-21 defeat on Oklahoma.

Two weeks don't make a season, but this looks like the Midwest's year. The southern powerhouses of last year seem to have run out of gas.

Michigan State, Ohio State and Michigan are rolling right along with Notre Dame, and it's a safe bet the experts who predicted a runaway in the Big 10 for the Spartans are munching their words. The three teams all play each other, so it should turn out to be a jolly scramble which could go right down to the final game of the season when Ohio State and Michigan clash.

All three looked like worldbeaters on Saturday. The Spartans won their 26th straight game, clubbing Minnesota, 21-0; Ohio State polished off California, 33-19, and Michigan ruined Tulane, 27-7.

Just as this looks like the Midwest's year to shine, the South may not have a really outstanding team for the first time in many a moon—unless Georgia Tech snaps out of the doldrums. The Engineers, tied by Florida two weeks ago, defeated Southern Methodist by the incongruous score of 6-4 on Saturday.

SMU scored two safeties, and held Tech in its own territory virtually throughout the game, except when Bobby Dodds' lads notched their touchdown, and that came as a result of an interception more than any power on the part of the winners.

Look at last year's powerhouses from Dixie. Mississippi was shut out by Auburn, 13-0 after winning its first two from weak foes. Tennessee has yet to score a point in two losses, the last being 21-0 to Duke. Alabama has a loss, a tie and a 21-12 victory over Vanderbilt to show for the year's work.

On the Pacific Coast, the two outfits that fought it out down to the barrier last year, are showing all signs of doing the same again. Southern California, which beat out UCLA for the crown, has polished off one league team and a pair of Big 10 elevens. The Trojans licked Indiana 27-14 for their third conquest.

In the southwest, most of the teams still are waiting for a big test, but Rice and Baylor rule the choices. Rice made a trip east Saturday and swamped Cornell, 28-7. But form means little in this section and many a year the team that looks like the weak sister at the start winds up the master.

A jack rabbit can run as fast as a good race horse, often attaining speeds of 45 miles an hour.

Former LaRue Coach Accepts Post in Dayton

A former LaRue High School coach, Don Burton, has assumed coaching duties at Oakwood High School in Dayton.

The 45-year-old native of West Liberty, Ky., will be head basketball coach there. He will also coach the seventh and eighth grade football teams in the Oakwood school district.

Burton was basketball and football coach at LaRue from 1941 to 1948, when he went back to his home town of West Liberty, staying there until 1951. He has been employed in Dayton for the past two years.

He succeeds Earl "Red" Gardner, a former professional who was forced to retire from the Oakwood coaching job because of illness. The former coach there is presently recuperating from a second abdominal operation and is expected to return to the Oakwood faculty during the second semester.

Burton's last coaching assignment was at his home town in 1951. A veteran of 20 years coaching experience, Burton gained prominence as a high school coach in Kentucky. He was basketball coach at Channel City for eight years and later switched to Morgan County High School in West Liberty, where he was also basketball coach.

He attended Marshall College in Huntington, W. Va., and received his degree from Eastern Kentucky. Burton was honored when he was named to the Big Springs, Tex., coaches school as an instructor for both basketball and football in 1949.

Bucks, Illinois Clash in Ohio's Top Grid Game

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Headed by Illinois' invasion of Ohio State for a Big Ten clash, the Buckeye realm offers one of the season's best collegiate gridiron programs this weekend.

Two dozen games are on the Friday-Saturday - Sunday slate, 13 against out-of-state opponents from Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan and West Virginia.

Illinois and Ohio State, with impressive come-back victories Saturday over west coast foes, are expected to attract a capacity crowd to the Big Buckeye stadium. Illinois, behind 14-7 at the half, triumphed 33-21 over Stanford, while Ohio State, 13-6 back of California at the halfway mark, whipped the Bears 33-19 on the strength of Bobby Watkins' four touchdowns. Watkins has six for two games.

Ohio clubs won 7 and lost 7 games with out-of-state opponents over the weekend, giving the Buckeyes 15 victories against 18 losses in interstate play for the year. The out-of-staters are ahead in scoring, 657 to 576.

There's a fairly good chance the coaches will spend a bit of time this week on extra points. Five games have been decided by the one-pointers thus far as the Ohio teams have converted only 111 of 197 touchdowns.

Heidelberg's Student Princes, defending Ohio Conference champs, have been the big losers because of the lack of conversions. Last week the Princes wound up in a 12-12 tie with Muskingum, and Saturday Heidelberg missed one of three tries as Ohio Wesleyan triumphed 21-20.

Denison, after two resounding victories, was nosed out the same way, 28-27 by Mount Union, but the Big Red still leads the state in scoring with 114 points for three games. Wittenberg has the leakiest defense, having allowed 113 points in three losing efforts. Sharing Saturday's spotlight with Ohio State's sterling win in the nationally televised coast contest, was Cincinnati's 57-7 victory over William and Mary which just a week before had tied Navy 6-6 while the Bearcats were dropping a 31-7 verdict to Marquette.

In other top-flight games Miami smothered Xavier 28-6, but Ohio U was dropped 16-0 by Harvard. Quantico Marines smothered Dayton yesterday 31-0.

This week's slate:

Friday night: Capital at Marietta, Waynesburg at Youngstown, Baldwin Wallace at Kent State, Xavier at Louisville.

Saturday: Illinois at Ohio State. Western Reserve at Ohio U., Miami at Western Michigan, Defiance at Ashland, Wittenberg at Heidelberg, Wooster at Denison, Otterbein at Kenyon, Mount Union at Findlay, Toledo at Cincinnati, Georgetown at Wilmington, Akron at West Virginia Tech, Northern Michigan at Ohio Northern, Oberlin at Depauw, Hiram at Grove City, Ohio Weslevan at Case, Muskingum at Slippery Rock, Bradley Tech at Bowling Green, West Virginia State at Central State, and Bluffton at Olivet.

Sunday: Dayton at John Carroll.

The Southern District of Lower California, in Mexico, has a climate resembling Arabia's.

They were replacements for Smith and Berridge, who went to Carl's Auto Parts and St. Mary No 1 respectively, for series action.

Shovel won the second round championship of the Industrial No. 1 League and then downed Marion Industries, first round champs, in a play-off. Three straight series wins over St. Mary No. 1, Marion Metal and Carl's followed and gave Shovel the city title.

Wilcox hurled the Shovel squad to a 15-4 mark for the season. Shovel went 10-4 in Industrial No. 1 League action, three of the losses coming in first-round play when Shovel finished in a tie for second spot.

Harding's Reserves Nipped 19-12 on Rally by West

Everything but the final score was satisfying at the football tilt between Harding's and Columbus West's reserves for the benefit of the Harding High School band at the stadium Saturday.

Before approximately 1,000 fans, West's reserves scored on a pass play in the final two minutes of play and then added the conversion for a 19-12 win.

Proceeds to Band

Proceeds from the affair will go to the band for uniforms, instruments and various other articles. Homer Huffman's Harding High School band put on a special halftime show.

West's winning touchdown came after the locals had tied the score with three minutes remaining in the game but then missed an official attempt to run the ball over for the extra point.

West's quarterback B. Cline hit his halfback, Bob Ackerman, who had slipped behind the Harding defense, with a pass which Ackerman carried the rest of the way into the Harding end zone. The winning tally followed a kickoff return from the West 20 to Harding's 48 and a running play which moved the ball to the 47. Karl Davis converted.

Thackery, Harding guard, set up the tying touchdown with recovery of a West fumble at the West 17. A run by Harold Jones and an unnecessary roughness penalty on the play took the ball to the one. A play later, Pete Schnaufer burst into the end zone. West's defense stopped Harding's attempt to run the extra point over.

West scored with 10 minutes remaining in the opening period when Jerry Swindler circled end and cut back through the Harding secondary without a hand touching him for 35 yards. The score came after West kicked off to Harding and the locals were unable to advance.

Harding Ties Score

Harding tied the score midway in the second period. In punt formation, the pass from center soared over the West punter's head and Harding dropped on the ball at the West 17. Jones took it to the 7, Schnaufer to the 4, and after a penalty moved the ball back to the 12, Harold Jones passed to Tom Hazen for the initial Harding score.

West drove to its second tally with 11 minutes left in the game to take a 12-6 margin. Starting the drive from its own 27, Cline climaxed it when he went in the end zone from two yards out.

A Harding fumble at the West 16 stalled the locals momentarily but several plays later Thackery recovered a West fumble to set up the locals' second score.

Harding High School's marching band, in addition to Ohio State's fight song, school song and formations of W and H, went through a novelty marching routine and played several well-known old songs during the halftime show.

Bob Watkins Leads Big Ten Scoring Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Watkins' four touchdown spurg against the University of California Saturday gave the Ohio State halfback a comfortable lead in Big Ten individual scoring.

The four sixpointers, plus the two touchdowns he scored in the 34-12 victory over Indiana, gave him a total of 36 points in competition against conference and non-conference foes. Ohio State beat California 33-19.

Nearest to the battering Buckeye back in scoring is Michigan's rugged sophomore halfback, Tony Branoff. The young Wolverine ace scored twice against Washington in Michigan's 500 opening game victory over Washington and added two more touchdowns Saturday as the Wolves beat Tulane 26-7. He also has accounted for three extra points and has a total of 27 tallies.

Halfback John Hicks ran 68 yards from scrimmage against Kentucky in 1951 to set a modern Georgia Tech record for long football runs.

Graham Leads Browns to 27-7 Victory

Groza's Conversion String Stopped at 121 by Cards

CLEVELAND (AP)—The National Football League's two undefeated, untied Western Conference teams clash in the No. 1 game of the week this Sunday when the Detroit Lions entertain the San Francisco 49ers.

Both have won two games. The defending champion Lions will be favored, but the 49ers are fresh from one upset and will be gunning for another. Yesterday, 'Frisco upended the Los Angeles Rams, 31-30, just six seconds before the end on a field goal by Gordon Soltau.

In other league action yesterday, the Cleveland Browns defeated the Chicago Cardinals, 27-7, and the Chicago Bears turned back the Green Bay Packers, 17-13

The Cardinals tried to stop Cleveland by rushing Otto Graham. They bothered him a good bit of the time, and almost scored once after making him fumble. But Otto clicked on the long ones and heaved two touchdown passes to Dante Lavelli and one to Ray Renfro. He completed 15 of 22, making his two-game record 33 out of 46.

A Graham to Lavelli pass from the Chicago 45 was the first Cleveland play from scrimmage, and the first touchdown. The tricky end snagged the ball and fell on the 15, got up and scored.

Still in the first quarter, the Browns cashed in on a break. Billy Cross of the Cards fumbled, Ken Carpenter recovered on the 24, and a Graham pass for 11 yards to Pete Brewster set up a touchdown which was scored by Chick Jagade on a three-yard plunge.

Chicago's score also came in the opening quarter. With young Jim Root, formerly with Miami of Ohio, as the passer, Chicago drove 80 yards. The pay-off was a 29-yard play that started as a forward pass to end Don Stonesifer, who dribbled the ball to Charley Trippi on the 11, Trippi going over.

The Brown defenders made two goal line stands, the first coming in the second period Renfro's fumble of a punt and a penalty put the ball on Cleveland's four, but the threat ended with a missed field goal, attempted by George Summerall.

After Summerall had missed another field goal try, the Browns scored again in the second period, with a one - play explosion. From the 48, Otto pitched to Renfro on the 10 and the halfback took it the rest of the way.

Lou (The Toe) Groza had his conversion kick blocked on this one, ending a string of 121 straight conversions without a miss, of which 109 were after the Browns entered the National League. He missed one this fall in Akron, but that was in an exhibition game.

The Browns added an insurance touchdown in the fourth, Graham completing four passes in seven plays which went 72 yards The last pass was for 34 to Lavelli, who scored.

The powerful Browns sit atop the Eastern Conference with two victories and no losses and the Philadelphia Eagles don't figure to cause them any worry this Saturday.

The Bears were faced with the same situation as the 49ers—they too had to come from behind at the end. Trailing 13-10 with three minutes to go, George Blanda hit Jim Dooley with a 16-yard pass in the end zone to wrap it up for the Bears.

Soltau's timely field goal for the 49ers was the big one, but Ben Agajanian kicked three and converted three touchdowns to keep the Rams in the van most of the way.

$200,000 Fire Wrecks California Navy Yard

VALLEJO, Calif (AP)—More than 1,000 fought a stubborn fire yesterday at Mare Island Navy Yard that caused one death, injured 12, and caused damage estimated by the Navy at $200,000.

Shooting flames visible for miles, the spectacular blaze flared uncontrolled for hours after it was discovered well under way at a tar-soaked pier.

Hundreds of servicemen—many of them watching a football game at the base—helped fight the fire along with civilian firemen.

Fireman L A McIntosh of Isleton, weighted down with heavy equipment, drowned when he fell from a fireboat.

The fire gutted 900 feet of pier and one Navy tug and damaged three barges and three other tugs.

LARUE GRIDDERS WIN

LaRue handed Johnsville its first defeat in Double-M League play 31-16 at Johnsville Friday night. It was LaRue's second straight win. LaRue forged into a 19-16 lead at the half with 13 points in the second quarter and then stopped Johnsville offense for the win. Wayne Thompson scored three times and Larry Hickman and Gene Cooper each added a touchdown. Cooper took a pass for an extra point.

NO SWEEP

SKOWHEGAN Me. (AP) — If the Strand Theater's Little League baseball team defeated Norridgewock, they were to see a free show. If thy lost, they'd have to sweep out the theater. The game ended in a 6-6 tie. So the theater manager and the team coach agreed that the youngsters should get the free tickets anyway.

ARMY SCORES FIRST BUT LOSES TO N.U. 33-20. Alert Pat Uebel (34) of Army pounces on the ball in the end-zone to draw first blood after a fumble by teammate Jerry Hagen (16) to score the only touchdown of the first period at Dyche Stadium against Northwestern's Wildcats. Bob Lauter (15), Wildcat fullback is a close witness. Northwestern roared back with 20 points in the second period and went on to win their second game of the season, 33 to 20, before 35,000 at Evanston.

Yankees Smell Winners' Share Of Series Gate

BROOKLYN (AP)—Maybe it was because they sensed the extra cash which goes to the winners but regardless of the reason the New York Yankees were a different ball club after beating the Brooklyn Dodgers 11-7 yesterday and taking a 3-2 lead in the World Series.

For the first time since the 50th World Series started there was real excitement in the Yankee dressing room.

"Pretty good," Manager Casey Stengel muttered as he wormed through the crowd. Then, a few minutes later, he confessed he felt optimistic about the outcome of the series.

"We're going back to our own park now, and that should be an advantage. Last year we had to play the last two here (Ebbets Field). And we were behind, 3-2, instead of ahead, 3-2, so you'd have to say our chances are better."

But before naming today's pitcher he consulted pitching coach Jim Turner. Finally, after a brief huddle, Casey shouted "Ford."

"First day we've hit," he said. "McDonald did a real good job. (Jim McDonald was the Yankee pitcher most of the way). He fielded his position good, and saved us some trouble. Reynolds (Allie) got the Dodgers out on a double play in the ninth) had good stuff. Maybe he'll come in handy tomorrow or the next day."

Reynolds, who injured his back in the first game, said, "I can still feel it." But he added he probably could go a couple of innings today and tomorrow, if necessary.

Mickey Mantle, whose third-inning bases-loaded homer broke the game wide open, said he hit "a belt high curve—the same kind of a ball they were throwing me the other day." He referred to Friday, when he fanned four times on Carl Erskine's pitches.

Over in the Dodgers' dressing room, Russ Meyer agreed with Mantle as to the kind of pitch the young Yankee center fielder hit.

"It was one of my best pitches," said Meyer. "Erskine had been telling me—and we had been noticing it Mantle had been running away from the pitches So I fed him a low overhead curve—a beauty, just the kind Carl was giving him Friday. It was a low one and a good breaker. But this time he stepped into it like he was mad at somebody and murdered it. They knocked the stuffing out of my best pitches. What can you do in a case like that.?"

Charlie Dressen didn't besitate in naming his pitcher for the sixth game.

"Our backs to the wall again and it's up to Erskine," he said. "He's pitched with two days rest before and done okay."

Erskine himself said he welcomed the opportunity to face the Yanks for the third time but added soberly:

"I haven't pitched with two days rest this year and I don't know how good my stuff will be. This is sure. I think I can do as well in Yankee Stadium as in Ebbets Field. I don't think a ball park means anything to a pitcher."

Bucks Called Hardest Hitters By Bears' Star

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)— Ohio State's Tom Hague burst around end and blocked Paul Larson's conversion attempt after California's third touchdown Saturday.

To the amazement of 47,000 fans in Memorial Stadium and Millions who watched the nationally telecast game, Larson rushed over and patted Hague on the back.

"Well, he made a nice play," Larson told quizzical newsmen.

That brand of sportsmanship characterized the entire game, in which only 45 yards were stepped off in penalties—15 against Ohio

Larson, a multiple-threat quarterback, summed it up

"Oh, they smacked you hard before the whistle blew. I've never been hit harder in my life. But they were the nicest sports I ever remember playing against."

Players of both teams agreed—and then went out and had dinner together

Said Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes:

"We play it clean at Ohio State. California plays it clean I defy anybody who saw the game to state that football is cruel and dirty.

"The game proved over and over—football is a marvelous sport."

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles
Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98c a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Trade Mark.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Wedded Bliss

"My Favorite Husband' is a pretty sweeping title. The avocation — I think that's what it is— of husband is the most widely practised thing anywhere on television these days.

J. CROSBY

In fact, if all the professional TV husbands were gathered together in one room, it might be a very good thing.

The husband and wife domestic comedy teams, who are growing rapidly into one of the world's largest industries, include Lucy and Desi, George and Gracie, the Erwins, William Bendix and Marjorie Reynolds, Pam and Jerry North, Joan Davis and Jim Backus, Ozzie and Harriet, Ray Milland and Phyllis Avery, Peg Lunch and Alan Bunce, Paul Hartman and Fay Wray, and — well, I tell you, kid, it's big business. The Arnaz's are being paid something like $8,000,000 for it, just to give you an idea.

I'M DELIGHTED that domestic felicity is such a huge commercial success. I'm not sure that you find so much of it in the amateur ranks as you do among the pros. In fact, professional marriage does not in any way resemble marriage among the amateurs I know.

Domestic life with the Erwins and the Burnses and the Norths is a succession of calamities, ranging from murder in the case of the Norths to chronic amnesia in the case of the McNutleys.

Not all these wives and not all these husbands are exactly alike but one thing is constant, so far as I know, in all of these shows. The husbands always lose.

THE WIVES invariably outwit them, though in the case of the feather - brained ones like Gracie or Joan Davis you might more properly say they unwit them. In any case, outwit or unwit, the husbands lose.

I don't think this is especially healthy propaganda to spread out ever so many hours over ever so many networks.

"You've got to stop thinking of George as a man," says one character to Joan Caulfield in "My Favorite Husband." "Maybe he was a man when you married him but you've worked hard on him for five years and now he's only a husband."

THIS MIGHT be held up as the philosophy of every one of these programs and I'm not sure it's a proper one.

"My Favorite Husband" started out life as Isabel Scott Rerick's amusing "Mr. and Mrs. Cugat" stories. Since then it's been a movie and undergone a great many mutations to satisfy the requirements of television. Actually, this is a very slick production as these things go.

Miss Caulfield is a cute chick who looks as if she might outwit a reasonably stupid husband. Barry Nelson is reasonably stupid as the husband and a little heavy for my taste.

The minor roles, a gold mine of good comedy in this sort of series, are very aptly played.

BUT WHAT they're up to is another matter. The most recent one concerned a bit of blackmail aimed at procuring a new dress for Miss Caulfield in exchange for letting her husband go off duck shooting a couple of days. This, we're told, is standard operating procedure in suburban circles and maybe it is.

The blackmail plan: the wife volunteers to go along.

Husbands — we're told — will pay any amount of money to keep a woman out of a duck blind. My own experience contradicts this considerably. Women, I've found, will pay almost any amount of money to stay out of duck blinds. They don't understand blinds.

Anyhow, Mr. Nelson and his companions, intent on relaxation, are stuck with a woman in the woods which leads to any number of comical situations.

ONE OF THEM, a woman in a poker game, has been done before on "I Love Lucy" and, for all I know, on all the others.

Come to think of it, there isn't a situation you can think of that all these shows is not going to exploit some time or other.

Wedded bliss is a splendid thing much of it is going to wear. Sooner or later it'll drive the rest of us to the divorce courts out of sheer ennui with all this bliss.

Whatever happened to my favorite married couple, the Bickersons? They loathed each other and, I thought, they were terribly funny.

Headlights Go Out, Car Goes Into Ditch

The right front of a car driven by Millard B. Woody, 29, of Mansfield, was extensively damaged in a one-vehicle accident on Route 61, four miles south of Mt. Gilead, at 1:45 a. m. Sunday, state patrolmen reported today.

Woody lost control of his car when his lights went out while he tried to brighten them after dimming them for a passing motorist. The south-bound car went into the ditch on the right and tore up about 4 feet of fence owned by Harry Bohn of near Cardington and a mail box owned by Clarence Rizer of near Cardington.

Sheriff Reports Mishap

Two persons received minor injuries in a two-car collision at 7:40 a. m. today investigated by the Marion County sheriff's office.

Grace Eckard, 23, of near LaRue, and two-month-old Jenny Lynn Eckard, also of near LaRue, were injured when the automobile in which they were passengers collided with an automobile driven by William Hessler, 33, of near Mt. Victory. Driver of the other car was Warren F. Eckard, 18, of near LaRue.

The Hessler car was heading south on County Road 31, while the Eckard car was east-bound on County Road 34 at the time of the collision, the sheriff's office reported. Extensive damage resulted to both vehicles.

Fire Guts New Jersey Oil Storage Warehouse

EDGEWATER, N. J. (AP)—Fire, punctuated with blasts, gutted a storage warehouse of the Falk Oil Co. today and caused damage estimated at $300,000.

Fire units from eight communities pitched in to battle the flames that rampaged out of control for almost two hours in the Cargill vegetable oil division of Falk Quality Products Co.

Eight of the firefighters were hurt, none seriously.

Ohio March of Dimes Goal Set at $4,200,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — In the next March of Dimes campaign, Ohio's goal will be $4,200,000, or about 60 cents for each person in the state.

Richard L. Kroesen, Cleveland business man who heads the state campaign organization, made this announcement yesterday at a meeting of Ohio representatives to promulgate on television but too

Film on Paper Industry Will Be Shown Club

The first week after its public release, a color film with sound, "Deep Roots," will be shown to the Sales Ad Club of the Marion Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon meeting Wednesday at Hotel Harding.

R. C. Skillman

Produced for the Champion Paper & Fibre Co. with general offices at Hamilton, O., the film will be shown by R. C. "Cal" Skillman who has been with the company for 20 years and is presently serving as assistant director of public relations.

"Deep Roots" is a story of how the paper industry developed the use of pine in making paper and of how the development has had far-reaching effects on many communities throughout Ohio, the Carolinas and Texas.

Mr. Skillman, whose years with Champion have included assignments as research engineer, director of employe services and publications editor, will give a talk on the paper industry.

He has spoken before many civic clubs, editorial associations, education work shops and college business students. A member and past president of the Hamilton Rotary Club, he is a past national president of the National Industrial Recreation association and is a past state and national director of the Credit Union association. He presently is a member of the editorial advisory staff of "Sports" magazine.

Fire Hits Rubber Plant at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Fire, which broke out in the mill and stock room of the Swan Rubber Company's reclamation plant, caused an estimated $12,000 to $15,000 damage here early Sunday morning.

Fire Chief Ralph Mead said he believed the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion, originating in some heated materials at the plant.

Extensive smoke-damage was caused to the entire building and there was considerable damage to machinery and wiring, Chief Mead said.

Firemen were at the scene of the fire for more than an hour. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Allan Levin, who lives near the plant, which is located at the south edge of Bucyrus.

The main building of the company is located near the Bucyrus business district.

Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, is full of gadgets like hidden stairways and dumb-waiter and a clock and a weathervane that can be read both inside and outside.

Hamilton Couple Appeal $77,221 Income Tax Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—Internal revenue agents accuse Vincent T. Hobbs of Anthony Wayne Hotel Hamilton, Ohio, of deliberately understemating his income taxes by $48,098 from 1935 through 1946. He denies it.

In an appeal filed in U. S. Tax Court by Hobbs, he denied any attempt to defraud the government and said he owed nothing.

They denied owing anything, or any attempt to defraud.

A short circuit in the wiring of a truck driven by Harry Euler of 301 Latourette St caused about $5 4, 2.00-25. damage to the ignition wiring at 7 55 p m. last night. The blaze broke out in front of the W. Center St station and firemen from that station answered the call.

The Marion township fire truck was called out from the Mark St. station at 10 10 p m. last night when grass fire threatened a DeKalb Agricultural Association storage barn on the Likens Rd. just west of the Baker airport. The grass fire was extinguished and no loss was reported.

No loss was reported in another fire run at 4 01 p. m. yesterday to the Palace Theater building. Firemen said a cigarette discarded in a trash barrel outside the building caused the trash to burn. The alarm was answered by firemen from the Central and Mark St. stations.

Larger Gas Pipe Laid For Green Camp Lines

To insure a more even distribution of gas in Green Camp, the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. last week started laying 1900 feet of larger pipe in the village.

Six inch line will be laid from the check station at Pearl and Walnut Streets west to High St. south on High St. to Broadway, then four inches farther south where a tie-in will be made with the existing line. The present two inch line in this area is being removed as on as the larger pipe is connected With this line there will be an almost continuous flow of gas in and through the village, John Marshall of the gas company stated.

Between 18 and 28 pounds of pressure is ordinarily maintained at the check station, but recently while the Hochstetler corn drying plant was in operation the pressure gauge dropped to five pounds.

NEIGHBORHOOD GROCERY STORE and MEAT MARKET on busy E. Center St. location. Ideal for husband-wife operation, good income, low rental. Let the records prove it to you, very little capital needed to get started. Break the shackles of factory work and be independent. About $3500 buys the business, equipment and stock. Don't just wish for opportunities to come your way Grasp this one and you'll always be glad some one else didn't beat you to it.

DO YOU WANT A DELICATESSEN STORE? with beer and wine carry out? We have just the place for you. Previously operated as grocery and meat market and did such a tremendous volume, the owners took their earnings and retired. The beer and wine carry out is now adding the delicatessen line as well as a complete stock of groceries and meats. Present owner has too many other interests, so can't devote full time to this one If you don't want to be kept busy, don't buy this one.

CAFE ON MAIN STREET doing a good restaurant, beer and wine business Ideal for a partnership to take over. The right operators can hit the Jack Pot here Showing a good profit now—a little promotion can double it—only $13,000 plus inventory.

ONE OF MARION'S MOST ATTRACTIVE LIQUOR SPOTS Ideal for husband and wife operation A proven money maker Owner prominent businessman who can't be in two places at the same time. Make an appointment for this one.

MAIN ST APPLIANCE STORE A busy little bee hive that will provide a good living for an operator that doesn't have too much to invest originally but can increase his stock gradually. You won't believe how little is being asked for this business.

Horses in Germany Lead a Dog's Life

BONN Germany (UP) — West Germans eat twice as much horse meat as mutton an official government report shows

Nevertheless, horse meat represents but 1 4 per cent of the total annual meat consumption of the West German Sixty per cent of the meat eaten by West Germans is pork

For some reason not quite clear to the experts, coal miners appear to be the chief eaters of horse meat, not only in Germany, but also in Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, France and Britain the report said In the past 12 months, 150 000 horses were slaughtered in Germany for home consumption and the bulk of the sales were in the Ruhr Most of the 25 000 horses sold for eating purposes to other European states also went to mining areas

Despite the perennial meat shortage in Britian figures available show that the British eat only about a third as much horse meat as the Germans In the past 12 months according to figures available here the British slaughtered but 59 000 horses to eat
